

PUPILS' ITEMS

The boiler room is now in good condition.—M. S.

We all enjoyed the band concert Monday afternoon.—K. H.

We are all glad to see Emma Wilson out of the hospital again.

We are all glad to see Walter McGibbons out of the hospital.

Little Belle Bowie says that she likes this school very much.—M. J.

Violet Berner made a dress which was sent to the Jamestown Exposition.

Miss Josie Mercier has paid a visit to her sisters, May and Caroline Mercier.

Miss Miller has returned from her farm in Washington she had a fine trip.

We wrote a reproduction of Bishop Scadding talk in the seventh grade.

We are looking forward to a public debate between the Nonpareils and Excelsiors.

Tracey B. Johnston and Silas P. Albert have been repairing some doors from the hospital.

The sewing room girls are waiting for the hot summer days to come so they can give a picnic.—D. D.

The rainy weather has been rather bad for the gardeners as it stops all the work such as plowing and pruning.

Leon Reinken who has recently been promoted to the seventh grade is getting along fine with his studies.—J. M.

Dora Lane left last Sunday for her home at Happy Camp, Cal. Her many friends are sorry that she left Chemawa and hope that she will return soon.—A. M.

Harry Jones, or "old boy" as he calls himself, is running the engine this week.

Next week he will fire at the school building. He is a jolly "old boy," and a good worker.

Anna Hauser is working in the laundry this week and is trying hard to learn how to work.

Bishop Scadding gave us an interesting talk about Jamestown as it was 300 years ago.—P. L. H.

The painters kalsomined the walls and ceiling of the dining room this week. It greatly improved its appearance.

We all greatly enjoyed the interesting talk given by Bishop Scadding of Oregon and hope he will soon visit us again.

Edith Milne, a former pupil of Chemawa, is now taking care of her sick brother Andrew Milne at Metlakatla Alaska.

The party given by the Band boys, celebrating their anniversary on Saturday, was a great success and every one enjoyed themselves.—L. B.

The morning detail of the blacksmith shop finished putting up and painting the smoke stacks Monday morning which improves the appearance of our shop.

The Y. M. C. A. members are very polite. They shake hands with any body that joins their association, to show that they are glad to have them join.—J. B.

We all enjoyed a visit from Bishop Scadding. He visited the school building in the morning and other places. In the afternoon the band played, then we gathered in the chapel and listened to a very interesting speech of Bishop Scadding.