

ACADEMIC

Frank Cox was promoted to the fourth grade last week.

Quarterly examinations are over in the 6th and 7th grades.

Gene Peone is doing some very good painting in the 7th grade.

Leon Reinken says he feels better since the examination is over.

Fred Lewis made 92½ in the 7th grade and stood highest in his class.

The eight grade had a lesson on how merchants mark the price of their goods.

The eighth A class is taking up bread making in domestic science this week.

Clarence Lewis is only 13 years old and yet is one of the best pupils in the 7th grade.

Miss Troutman's potted plants made the school chapel look very beautiful on Easter Day.—E. O.

Margaret Lowry made the highest average in the 6th grade test—98½. She has been promoted to the 7th.

Rev. Webber of Salem gave us a very interesting and instructive lecture in the chapel on Monday evening, taking for his subject the three D's, dirt, debt and devilishness, and the three R's, realness, reason and resolution. This lecture was about as good as six sermons.

The beautiful decorations in chapel on Easter were the product of Miss Dotse's and Miss Miller's taste and Miss Troutman's large collection of very fine plants. Plants from the green house, and ferns, Oregon grape, wild flowers and green foliage from the woods furnished the balance of the decorations.

BREVITIES

Neta Jones is now working for Mrs Cox. She does her work very nice.

We enjoyed the entertainment that was given Saturday evening March, 30.

The entertainment given by Emily Squier last Saturday night was enjoyed by all that attended.

We all hope to see a nice entertainment, which will be given by the Nesika Club in the near future.

Miss Miller took some girls out for a walk Saturday evening to gather some flowers to decorate the chapel for Easter.

The detail has been changed; those who were going to school in the afternoon are now going to school in the morning.

A number of Catholic pupils made their first communion Easter Sunday, and also a number made their Easter utilities.

Anna Hauser said she is going to grasp every opportunity she can and has made a resolution to be kind and generous to all at Chemawa.

Mr. Teabo, the leader of the Chemawa Indian Band received from one of the tailor shops in the east a new uniform with which he is much pleased.

On Easter Sunday twelve boys and eight girls from the Klamath, Crescent City, and Smith River, Cal., had their pictures taken in front of the office.

The small girls' Band of Mercy had a nice program last Wednesday night some of the members were absent but we had a very interesting time any way.