

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

The farmers are grading down by the hospital.—F. S.

Leon Reinken made a nice pair of running trousers for himself.

Tailor boys are busy making caps for small boys this week.—M. S.

The harness makers are working outside while Mr. Farrow is away.

Last week Eddie Somerville made about a dozen nice hand rakes.

John McCush was promoted to book-keeping in the printing office last week.—A. D.

The engineers are practicing hard on valve setting on the small engine in the plumber shop.—W. M.

Christine Boswell is now working in the sewing room and Miss Skipton is very proud of her because she does her work very neatly.—N. C.

Mr. Woods and the carpenter boys are working on the lumber shed raising it so it can be shifted.—E. S.

Maggie Jerry is still working in the sewing room and she is learning how to be a good dressmakers.—J. T.

Myrtle Berner is staying with the nurse and works in the hospital. She thinks its a fine place to work.—C. F.

Orin French takes much interest in his work at the blacksmith shop. Orin is a good worker and will soon have a shop of his own.—A. S.

The blacksmith boys are through making their forges and have put them up and it improves the looks of our shop very much.—E. C.

Mrs. Cooper was very much pleased with the work done by the mixed grade last week.

The girls of the graduating class are taking drafting lessons every week and are improving rapidly.

Miss Bowman is making two beautiful waists for herself and it helps the girls a great deal to watch her.

The members of the Albina basket ball team were entertained at meals by the domestic science girls.

The detail was changed last week and Miss Brown was pleased to see so many of her old dress makers back again.

Dora Gray and Sarah Peirce are fine breadmakers. It is said, for cinnamon rolls they are pronounced experts.

Anna Hauser is one of the best dressmakers in the sewing room and has commenced her first gingham dress for Stella Javis.

The third grade A class girls are detailed in the domestic science class every week. They are beginning early, and will soon be fine cooks.

The sewing room girls have just finished the apron check dresses, and are now starting the gingham dresses for the small girls. These dresses are being made by the girls of the alternate detail while the regular class works on the McBride Hall girls summer uniforms.

The Estelle Reels and Nonpareil must be asleep as we received no report of these meetings.