HIAWATHA

The meeting of the Hiawatha Club last Friday evening was devoted chiefly to business. Owing to the fact that the roll book had been misplaced the roll was not called and the minutes not read. The newly elected officers took up their duties at this meeting. Much business of different natures were talked over and after everything had been settled the meeting adjourned.

EXCELSIOR

The Excelsior society met in its usual place. The new officers presided. No business of importance was transacted. Henry Dillstrom was appointed to take care of our tree. The following program was well rendered: Inaugural Address, President; vocal solo, Henry Darnell; Riddles, James Evans; selection, glee club; vocal solo, Martin Sampson; historical reading, Levi Sortor; cornet solo, Paul Queachpalma; dialogue, Frank Souvigner & Alden Clark; closing address Robert Cameron. After the program was over the question for debate and speakers were announced and we adjourned.

REMNANT

After giving us a good entertainment the Remnant Club gave a party to their lady friends in the Auditorium last week. It was well managed. A short but well rendered program was given. As most of the stringed instrument players belong to that club you may be sure they had good music. The glee club also sang very good. After the program and the small games were over we retired to the dining room where five tables of fine eatables awaited us. The party did not last as long as other parties. The name surely does not mean "left out" or are bachelors as they all had lady friends and enjoyed the party very much.

Y W C A

The meeting was opened by singing "Only Remembered by What We Have Done," after which we were led in prayer by the president. The secretary being absent the roll was called by the vice-president, Miss Frazier. We again sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Miss Chiloquin and Miss De Vault then told us many interesting things concerning the State Convention. Each of the seven delegates who were sent to Corvallis will have her turn at giving an account of the convention. After listening to Miss Chiloquin and Miss De Vault very interesting talk we sang for our closing hymn, "Pass Me Not" we then repeated our watch word and adjourned.
