

BREVITIES

The students will begin to work on their gardens.

Mable Nesbit is making herself a nice white dress for summer.

Jennie Luke is now working in the dining hall and is doing nicely.

Mrs. McCoy of Grande Ronde visited her daughter Evaline this week.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Mann is recovering after her spell of illness.

The band boys are expecting to have their new instruments by the last of May.

Mr. Cooper and the lawn boys are busy cutting down the lawns around McBride Hall.

What did Philip Soraban think there was at the end of the race track that caused him to go clear around?

Miss Brown took the sewing room girls out for a walk Saturday afternoon and all enjoyed their walk.

The lawns are beginning to look fine and when the roses bloom it is going to make this whole place look beautiful.

Louise Murray has a very nice cowboy hat which she received from one of her friends which looks quite becoming on her.

A great improvement has been made in the dining hall by putting up the new white curtains which were made in the sewing room.

The pupils enjoyed hearing Mr. Bewley's graphophone in chapel Monday night and they hope they will have the pleasure of listening to it again.

The members of the Nonpareil Literary Society gave a dinner party last Sunday. The young men invited reported having had plenty of something good to eat thus missed their supper. They must have certainly got enough.

The boys under the age of 17 years are practicing hard for the relay race from Salem to Chemawa which will be on the 11th of May. Mr. Watt Shipp of Salem was out on Monday evening training the boys that are taking part in the 50 mile relay race.

The Y. M. C. A. boys had their fun in Old Chemawa last Saturday evening. A special program for the evening was rendered. Messrs. Brewer, Cooper, Smith, Farrow and Larsen were there. They gave complimentary remarks after the luncheon which all young men like to hear.

The members of the Nonpareil Literary Society were very sorry to see Bessie Chiloquin leave the presidential chair which she has held for number of terms. She also performed her duties faithfully and would probably have held the chair for another term had she not refused to become a candidate. Ella Brewer is her successor and it is hoped that she will serve us as well.

Miss Sara O'Here and Blanche Charnley of Portland paid Chemawa and their many friends a short but pleasant visit Saturday and Sunday. They were busily occupied from the time they arrived until they left on the Monday morning train. In company with several other young ladies they were taken for a drive on Sunday afternoon and evening by Miss Hutchinson and Miss Booth of Salem.
