The press is broken and the AMERICAN has to be printed on the small job press this week and next.

Trying to avoid work is often the hardest kind of work.

Thoughtfulness on your part will save embarrassment of others.

Feel sorry for doing wrong, not for being caught doing wrong.

If you are given a privilege, take it and be thankful, but don't take any more than that.

Never be offended at suggestion, remember that you can learn something even from a fool.

With the flowers, birds, music, books, weather, and all of nature to talk about, how can one find time for gossip.

When you borrow money from a fellow student, remember that the money is his and not yours. Never feel free till you pay it back, you are his slave as long as you keep his money.

W. S. Olive, a special Indian agent, died at a local hospital to-day of pneumonia. The body is being prepared for shipment to Georgetown D. C. where his family resides.

It was not known definitely this afternoon whether or not it would be possible to ship the body on No. 4 to-night. When it is shipped however, the body will be escorted to the train by a troop of Knights Templar, of which order Olive was a member.

Supervisor Holland, who chanced to be passing through Reno took charge of the arrangement and went with remains to Washington D. C. Mr. Olive died Monday April 15, P. M. The body was shipped Wednesday April 17.—The New Era.

LOCALS

Mrs. Theisz, matron, is going on her vacation to her home in Virginia where she will visit the Jamestown Fair. R.S.

Misses Hutchinson and Lalor attended a reception given by the employes at the Oregon State Insane Asylum last Friday evening.

Last Wednesday 16 of the Catholic girls and boys drove to Brook where they were confirmed by Archbishop Christie. They were chaperoned by Miss Lalor and all enjoyed the trip.

Archbishop Christie, accompanied by Father Datin, visited the school last Wednesday, May 1st. The Archbishop addressed the student body in the chapel, giving us a delightful and entertaining talk.

Miss Noble of Carlisle writes that she wants the AMERICAN sent to her every week as she misses the little paper very much if one fails to come.
