

LOCALS

Mr. Chalcraft made a business trip to Portland Monday.

Mr. and Miss Campbell attended services in Salem Sunday afternoon.

Mr., Mrs. and Irene Campbell are now boarding at the Mess for a while.

Mr. Charles Mack of Crescent City, Calif., visited his son Nick part of this week.

Mrs. Wm. Ferris, two little daughters and Maud Stoddard visited friends at Chemawa Sunday afternoon.

Misses Hutchinson, Lalor and Postley went to Salem Wednesday afternoon to help put out the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner (nee Alvira Parrish) of Crescent City, have been visiting Chemawa the last week.

Mr. Wagner left for Portland Sunday evening. He expects to locate in Portland the Rose City.

Miss Ethel Parrish of Portland spent Sunday at Chemawa, with her sister Alvira. It was a happy day for both girls, as they had not seen each other for 5 years.

Little Ethel Wagner is receiving her share of attention. Every one says "what a good and baby sweet."

Miss Postley was sick on Saturday.

Mr. Bewley escorted little Daisy Nelson to Portland on her way home on Saturday.

Mrs. Fright shows interest in the small girls by taking them out walking which is very much appreciated by them. They enjoy being taken for walks during these fine evenings.

Miss Frances Newcomb returned recently from her visit with friends in Southern Oregon.

The members of the mess held a business meeting on Wednesday and elected Miss Lalor manager for June.

Miss Skipton left on the Wednesday evening train to spend Decoration Day with friends at her old home town Corvallis.

Fortunato Jayme assisted in the printing department Saturday morning, as the work was so far behind on account of the press being broken.

Misses Brewer and Jones spent Saturday evening with Mrs. and Miss Woods at candy making, and later sat outside and enjoyed the fine moonlight.

Mrs. Brewer took her detail of 35 girls to old Chemawa to spend Sunday afternoon reading and playing in the cool shade and then treated them to ice cream and cake. Mrs. Woods and Miss Jones were also invited to share the pleasure.

A delegation of about one hundred and seventy-two members of the Junior Y. M. C. A. from different places in the Willamette Valley came down from Salem last Saturday afternoon and visited the school. The band gave an open air concert and all departments were open for their inspection.

Twenty of our Y. M. C. A. young men escorted them in parties around to the various buildings and shops. Mr. Hatt of Salem came out with the boys.

The plumbers have fixed the electric lights around the school building so that the pupils can have plenty of light when they have their social gatherings on the lawn.
