

LOCALS

A large crowd from Chemawa visited Salem last Saturday.

A nice Oregon rain on Monday afternoon made us all feel fine.

We have more pupils than we had this time last year and more are still coming.

Boys, don't get discouraged over the Seattle game. Try, try again.

Esther Napoleon and Dolly Case are practicing a duett on the piano.

"We're a working on the railroad
All the livelong day
We're a working on the railroad
We're getting white mans pay."

Do you notice how the girls pick the es on Friday evenings and wear them to the sociables? They look very pretty in the glossy hair of our Indian girls.

Miss Noble is delighted with the beautiful Autumn weather we are having, and says this is the first time she ever saw roses and strawberries growing in October.

Mrs. Zelinski is bringing delicious strawberries to the school from her place near Chemawa. They are rather expensive—15 cents a box, but what can you expect in October?

A letter has been received at the school from Leon Parker, who writes from Irma, Cal. Leon was a member of the Chemawa class of 1906, and we understand he is getting along nicely.

Miss Irene Campbell arrived home from Spokane where she has been visiting her brothers for the past three months. Her many friends were glad to see her with her sunny smile.

Mr. Smith, from near Pendleton, visited the school this week, being a friend of the Walker children from Eastern Oregon.

Mr. Hulden has been fully equipping Chemawa's new bakery. When completed we will have as good bakery as any in the service.

The printers would be glad to have items from other schools in the northwest, as many of our pupils can thus get a home letter and hear of their other doings at home.

The new hospital is now under roof and partially plastered, with the plumbing work, sewer work and water all in place, so that there is no question but what the building will be completed on time and be for the use of the school this year.

The thanks of the school are due to Mr. Tillman of the Willamette University who kindly brought his lantern to the school and manipulated it for his friend Dr. Mathes of Bellingham, Wash when he lectured before the school yesterday evening.

Miss Margaret Miller, after 12 years, has resigned in order to live on her claim which she has in Horse Heaven, Wash., which is said to be very valuable, and on which she must live for fourteen consecutive months in order to prove up on her property.

Among those coming from Caldwell were, Eddie Frielander, Antoine Francis, Ellie Covington, Harry Covington, Joe Whalawitsa, Virginia Garry, George Flett, Duncan Distartel, Henry Wilson, Dan Conden, and Millie Frielander, and there is still another party to come from Nespelem, the Western part of the Caldwell reserve.
