

BREVITIES.

Anna Buck is working for Mrs. Campbell.

Mrs. Woods who has not been well is much better.

Bessie Chiloquin makes a very able president of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Theisz and her floor girls have been busy during the past week setting out flowers around McBride Hall.

Girls should be kind to all newcomers and make things as pleasant as possible for them. Show a kindly, hospitable spirit.

Lizzie Frazier one of our '07 graduates will be back in a few days to go to school at the Willamette University, but at present she is visiting Mrs. McClain at Albany.

James Sloan, who is taking a university course at the Willamette University has secured a position with A. L. Harvey, of Salem so as to put in his spare time which is not devoted to his studies.

The large elephant ears plant that has occupied the porch of the assistant superintendent's cottage has been moved into Mr. Campbell's office this week and is now occupying a prominent place by the window.

There is going to be a big chicken pot pie at the assistant superintendent's cottage if the chickens are not given a new roosting place. They are very pretty chickens but the front lawn and pavements are not exactly the places for them.

Any one can tell that Miss Hutchinson is from the east when she mistook a large dead jack rabbit hanging on the fence the morning after hallowe'en for a fawn. She had Mr. Campbell counting the deer and fawns in the deer park all right.

We regret exceedingly to report the serious illness of Philip Sooksait, one of our Warmspring boys. Philip was just waiting to go home when he was suddenly taken ill and has since been confined to his bed in the hospital. Philip's many friends at the school are constant in their attention upon him.

Mr. Kirby was delighted at the prospect of his first night's sleep at Chemawa amid the odoriferous firs and pines, but awoke during the night only to find himself almost suffocated with the delicate scent of limburger (left in the bed pillow by a hallo w'e'n imp.)

The Bible Study class has sixty five members. The boys and girls have bought their own books and are very much interested in their new study. They meet on Sunday afternoons from three to four o'clock. Mr. Goudge of Salem leads.

Pupils are returning to school every day. Those of the boys and girls who are slow about coming back are missing a great deal of valuable instruction.

Halloween parties were in evidence on hallowe'en night. After the lecture given by Prof. Mathes of the State Normal School, Bellingham, Wash., there were four hallowe'en parties organized for the pupils, one in Mrs. Newcomb's building for the small boys; one in Miss Troutman's building for the small girls; one in the gymnasium for the large girls of the small girls' home and boys in the middle size boys' building; one in McBride Hall for the McBride Hall girls and Mitchell Hall boys. Mr. Teabo and band made the round, playing a couple of pieces at each place. All enjoyed themselves and a pleasant evening was spent.
