

LOCALS

Miss Dohse spent Sunday with friends in Salem.

The sun is shining gloriously this mornng

Mr. Campbell has been suffering from a severe cold.

We are glad to know that Pickering Chalcraft is improving.

The robins are singing away as if spring was here instead of autumn.

Gabriel Peters and Joe Bredell arrived at the school from Coeur d' Alene.

Mrs Stella S. Bullard, has arrived at the school and entered on her duties as nurse.

Tommy Case found a very pretty fur collar which the owner can have by proving property.

A letter received from Ellen Kinley, at Blaine, Washington, says that she will soon return to Chemawa and take up her studies.

Caroline Ferris sent Mrs. Campbell a very pretty postal card from her home. We are all anxious to see Caroline return to Chemawa.

Michel Wilson's many friends were glad to see him step off the train last Wednesday a week ago. He will go on with his tailor trade.

Madam Calve the great prima donna will sing in Portland on Thursday Dec. 5th. Many people from this section will go to hear the famous singer.

Miss Irene Campbell is again studying music with Prof. Von Jessen of the Salem College of Music.

Mrs. Cox made a basty trip to Salem on Monday to get some decorating paper for the children's dining room.

Wm. Frielander who arrived week before last from Nespelem has entered the harness department.

We had a very heavy rain on Sunday—something unusual for Oregon as our rains are usually very light.

A number of Chemawa people attended the play "The College Widow," at the Salem theatre on Tuesday night.

John Peazzoni arrived from California on Wednesday with his cousins John and Lizette Mason.

Malvina Moxley arrived on Monday from Northern California and has entered the seventh grade.

The friends of Dr. and Mrs. Nywening will be pleased to know that a dear little daughter has arrived at their home.

Mrs. Theisz met with an accident on Tuesday. She slipped on the walk and sprained her ankle, but was able to get around the next day.

The girls who practice on string instruments are Matilda John, Maud Lowry, Bessie Boles, Emma Shepherd, Christina Lane and Esther Napoleon.

Miss Christina Harold who has been temporarily filling the position of nurse until the arrival of the permanent appointee has gone to her home. Miss Harold fills the place very satisfactorily when called upon and has many warm friends among those who came under her care.

WANTED

For Chemawa School sixty Turkeys weighing about 12 lbs. each for delivery before Christmas Apply to Edwin L. Chalcraft Supt. Chemawa, Oregon.