

PUPILS' ITEMS

Lillie Patton is now working in the laundry.

Harrist Dick is now working in the sewing room.

Silas Albert is getting to be a good blacksmith.

We are all glad to see Galena Nelson out of the hospital.

There are quite a number of excellent workers in the tenth grade.

Hugh Jackson is working in the kitchen and he does his work well.

The Elks society had a very nice program last Thursday night.

The sixth grade girls and boys are doing very fine in their studies.

Ruma Cameron is now working in the laundry and she likes her work.

Violet Edwards is working in the hospital and is taking nurse training.

Oscar Case is the smallest boy in the sixth grade and always get his lessons.

Mr. Enright gave the boys and girls of Chemawa a good lecture Monday night.

Frank Cox is now working in the tailor shop and hopes he will soon learn how to make trousers.

Mr. Enright in his lecture Monday night told us about the advantage the tailor boys at Chemawa have. He says they can get a course in drafting and cutting here that would cost a hundred dollars in New York.

Hazel Picard and Minerva Mearns were transferred from the small girls' home to McBride Hall last Monday.

Ellen Kinley writes that she is having a very nice time at Blaine, Wash., and says that she is coming back to school again.

Ediel Logan, one of the new pupils, was put in the sewing room and she seems to be interested in her work and we hope she will become a good dress-maker.

The "Pupils' Items" this week were neatly prepared and reflected credit on those who wrote them. The American is glad that the pupils of Chemawa read their school paper and profit by the advice they find therein.

Not Tolerated in Salem

Quite a number of the teachers' staff have been attending the Institute in Carlisle during the week and have profited considerably by the talk and lectures there heard. It certainly is a shame that the meetings are frequently disturbed by the "guying" by certain students from Dicklisson who claim to be gentlemen. The Chairman should not permit his institute to become a place for these alleged gentlemen to show their "college spirit." If such actions show any thing they certainly do show an opportunity to the local police to keep order where order is needed.—The Carlisle Arrow.
