

The school began again last Friday.

Frances Swartz attends school all day.

Peter Seltice gave a nice talk last Sunday evening.

Joe Wiggins is now working on the industrial boys' detail.

The Seniors and Juniors are having examinations this week.

Frank Cox and Gabriel Peters are working in the woodshed.

Have you seen the blue birds? They are here in great numbers.

Mr. Fickle arrived recently and is now teaching in the fifth grade.

Edward McCoy is here with his mother visiting his sick sister, Rachel.

Miss Iva Cox returned Monday to California, where she is teaching.

Hon Edward Hirsch and daughter were Chemawa visitors on Sunday.

Charlie Stensgar, from Washington state, is apprenticed in the kitchen.

The teachers all notice that our football boys are our very CLEANEST boys.

The plumbers are busy at present repairing the large pump in the deep well.

Dan Nichols, who was apprenticed in the bakery is now on the wood boys' detail.

The eighth grade were glad to welcome Orin French, who has just returned to school.

Mr. Mann's talk on blacksmithing was so plain and so interesting that we all enjoyed it.

Dean Walker and Frank Dan were cleaning the new hospital windows part of this week.

Miss Evelyn Woods is kept busy nowadays practicing with a vocal club recently organized.

We are pleased to know that Frank Booth is getting along finely at Salem, where he is working.

Mr. Westley is off for his vacation, leaving Harry Queahpalma and Galucia Nelson in charge of his detail.

Rosy Chalifone, who was a pupil of this school, died about a week ago at her home in Southern Oregon.

Mrs. Theisz presented her friends with great bunches of beautiful roses grown out doors for a New Years present.

It is pretty hard to catch Clara Robinson in an arithmetic question. She is at the head of her class in the study of arithmetic.

The Chemawa basketball team was defeated by the Independence team by a score of 12 to 7 last Saturday evening on our own floor.

Albert Garry, Walter Haight and Webster Hudson gave the student body a short talk about the Convention last Sunday evening.

The sewing room girls are said to be so busy that they are not able to write items for the AMERICAN. They are working in earnest since New Years.

How many of our boys and girls have read "Black Beauty?" Mr. Mann's talk suggests the book and every one who has not read it should do so.

Anna Buck is still working for Mrs. Campbell and is doing very well. Anna's home is twenty-five miles south of the arctic circle but she enjoys our Oregon climate.

Miss Irene Campbell had the misfortune to slip on the sidewalk and break her collarbone. Dr. Tucker set the broken bone and Miss Irene is getting along very well.