

Left-Over Items

Tom Mullings is working in the wagon shop.

Lilly Burns is making herself a very pretty dress.

William Burke is getting to be a good harness maker.

The violets which are in bloom smell very sweet.

Sam John will return soon bringing two girls with him.

Addie Cameron is doing fine in the hospital as cook.

Elsie Lewis is working in the laundry. Her work is neatly done.

Katie Henry will work in the hospital in place of Addie Cameron.

Matilda Gibeau is making a pretty watch chain for Martha Andy.

We are all glad to see Wilbur Morgan back in his class in room No. 3.

Hazel Picard is working in the dining hall and does her work very neatly.

Mrs. Theisz opened the library Sunday and gave the girls books to read.

Girls! observe the taps of the bell given in the dining hall—chapel also.

Clara Reed says she likes to work with Miss Troutman in the Small Girls' Home.

Mr. Cooper gave the second half of his phonograph entertainment Monday night.

Mary Gibeau was in the third grade when she came and now she is in the sixth.

The sewing room girls are planning to give a party the last part of this month.

Miss Lizzie Frazier stayed with Mrs. Farrow during Mr. Farrow's absence in Tacoma.

Edward Ainsworth, who was promoted from the sixth to the seventh grade, is doing nicely.

Anna Evans is working in the sewing room. She says that she likes Miss Brown very well.

Leon Reinkin is getting to be an expert basketball player. He is the center for the tailors.

Ella Flemming made some very delicious biscuits in the Domestic Science room last Monday.

We are all glad to see Clara Wilson and her little sisters and brothers come back to school again.

A letter has been received from Maud E. Hamilton and she states that she is now Mrs. Donald Atkinson.

Joe Dillstrom, the cartoonist of the "Chemawa American," has come back to Chemawa to go to school.

Walter McGibbon worked in the new hospital Tuesday morning sandpapering the floor so that it could be oiled.

Gardener boys are getting along pretty well in their pruning business; they expect to get done some time this week.

Paschal George has written to one of his friends and says that he will soon be back to school after his long vacation.

Nettie Carrasco is now working in the laundry. Nettie is a very nice little worker and Mrs. Woods is quite proud of her.

Michel Wilson, the captain of the tailors' basketball team, put his team through a stiff practice last Tuesday morning.

The G. O. & P. Line, which runs from the power house to the woodyard, is being remodelled. The rails are being made into sections in the blacksmith shop. Harry Jones will keep his position as section boss.