

PUPILS' ITEMS

The new hospital is now ready for use.

Fred Lewis is getting to be a good runner on stilts.

The painters are painting the wood-work in the bakery.

Bessie Meannus moved from the Small Girls' Home to McBride Hall last Saturday.

Merl Poland and Mr. Teabo are getting their whips in trim for the coming baseball season.

James Evans is now working in the printing office. He intends to be a printer some day.

The blacksmith boys are lining up the Chemawa short line railroad that leads to the wood shed.

Mr. Moran arrived at Chemawa Saturday evening to take charge of the engineering department.

Alden Clark has entered the harness shop and we all hope he will be a good harness-maker in the near future.

Eugene Williams, manager of Chemawa's basketball team, made a flying trip to Salem on business Monday.

Boys who are members of the Y. M. C. A. should take more interest in the association and attend the meetings.

Miss Dohse is helping the Y. M. C. A. quartette this week so they may be better prepared to sing for Sunday services.

Carl Stone is now working on the garden detail with the intention of becoming a good gardener before he leaves Chemawa.

Walter Miller is getting to be an all-around player in the band. He is our tuba player, also plays the cornet, and he is now practicing on the slide trombone.

The Senior and Junior classes have made great preparations for their party given jointly by these classes and it promises to be memorable in many ways.

Left-Over Items

Miss Sarah Peirce is visiting with her sister in Albany.

Walter Miller can play some fine music on his guitar.

Tuesday the Y. W. C. A. gave a party sociable and had good success.

The eighth grade is starting on longitude and time in the standard arithmetic.

Mack Colby is a good hand at soldiering. He has been soldering the sinks in the kitchen.

Edward Curl is doing some good work painting in the carpenter shop this week.

Mr. Goudge led the Bible class last Sunday evening. The association is rapidly increasing in numbers.

Miss Troutman says she likes Jennie Rosenberger, as she does her work neatly. She is one of Miss Troutman's floor girls.

William Watkins has made a wrench for Mr. Derby, who will use it on the big pump in the deep well. He is pleased with William's work.

The Y. M. C. A. Juniors will soon show a swift basket ball team. We expect a game from the Rough Riders in a short time and we will show them great sport.