

PUPILS' ITEMS

Mr. Bowen is busy making new rose beds.

The gardeners are spraying the fruit trees.

The blacksmiths will give a party on the 25th inst.

Bessie Boles is now working in the hospital kitchen.

James Olney is now working in the blacksmith shop.

Maggie Jerry is making a very pretty dress for herself.

Katie Henry reports having a fine time while at Siverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Russie were here visiting their children last week.

Willie Friedlander is getting to be a good mandolin player.

Grace Beaver is doing her work very nicely in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith returned from Portland Saturday evening.

John Taylor, a new boy from Montana, is playing tuba in the first band.

There were a number of Salem visitors in the school rooms on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Campbell was in Portland on business on Thursday and took part in the Elks parade.

The sewing room girls are very busy making dresses for the new girls that came last week.

Mrs. Olney has returned to her home in Toppenish, Wash., after a long visit with her children.

Margaret Lowry is now working in the drug room and takes a great deal of interest in her work.

The lecture given by Mr. Cooper Monday evening was very interesting and instructive to all.

Clara Robinson received a very beautiful valentine at the party given by the Seniors and Juniors.

Mrs. Campbell told an interesting little story to the seventh grade about herself and a friend of hers.

Antoine Francis is interested in music—studying and listening. He especially likes to hear piano solos.

We are sorry to hear that Violet Berner will be out of the sewing room for a while on account of her eyes.

The seventh grade wrote compositions on important industries which they have at their various homes last week.

Many of the invited guests received beautiful Valentines at the party given by the Seniors and Juniors last Friday evening.

The blacksmiths are now busy out in the woods digging some young trees which will be placed around the new hospital.

The members of the Bible class met in chapel last Saturday evening. There were forty-two girls and thirty six boys present.

As Mr. Campbell says "push up." You can see most of the girls studying out of school so as not to be "stuck in the mud."

Miss Irene Campbell, manager of the girls' basketball team, is very much pleased with the work and behavior of the girls. She says they conduct themselves like perfect ladies.