

Athletics

Albert Garry has been training for the five-mile race.

Martin Sampson is seen on the track every day after school hours.

The first basketball team will play two more games before they disband.

Wm. Watkins says he is going to lower his record in the 220-yard run.

Harry Jones can be seen every evening training for the long distance runs.

John McCush and George Horne can be seen most any time practicing for the coming baseball season.

As the evenings are getting more pleasant the boys seem to enjoy themselves going around the race track.

Chemawa baseball team is out practicing every evening for the game with the Dallas team on the 4th of next month.

The race track was worked upon last Saturday but the ground proved to be a little too wet to put into good condition.

The boys will soon try-out for the second baseball team so they can get into condition for some hard old games also.

The baseball grounds are now in shape for the boys to practice on and the team held their first practice last Saturday and made a pretty good showing.

The Chemawa girls' basketball team showed great ability when they played with the OAC girls, and we all hope they will continue to play winning games.

Chemawa expects to have a good baseball team this season although it is little crippled by the absence of our star third baseman, Joe Lane. We expect to have him with us in the near future.

Chemawa basketball girls will play the OAC basketball girls this evening at Corvallis. Last Saturday they defeated them by the decisive score of 21 to 4.
