

LOCALS

Haynes Bateman is now first sergeant of A company.

There was a general clean up about the grounds last Saturday afternoon.

The crocuses smell very sweetly and there are plenty of them at Chemawa.

William and John Johnson returned to school from Southern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Moran, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith went to Salem last Tuesday.

Mary Boles has left the laundry and is now working in the sewing room. She is one of Miss Skipton's best workers.

The band usually practices in the band hall Monday nights, but last Monday being warm, they moved to the band stand and gave a short open air concert.

Mike Telkia will soon learn how to draw pictures, as he is trying very hard every day. He will make a good artist. We have quite a number of them at Chemawa.

We are all sorry to see Mrs. McPherson leave for Alaska on the 16th. She says she will be glad when she gets on the ocean again, but we hope she will not get sea sick as she did last fall.

Mrs. Miller, mother of Miss Margaret Miller, a Chemawa teacher for many years, died at her home in Prosser, Washington, and her remains were brought to Salem for burial. The funeral took place from the Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon, March 9th. Miss Miller has the sympathy of her Chemawa friends.

The daffodils that are in bloom south of McBride Hall remind us that spring is here.

The Elks' Concert in Salem attracted a number of our people who went in on Tuesday night, and reported a very good amateur program. The Elks should feel very proud of the talent displayed by the Salem lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield, of Seattle, Wash., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chalcraft. Mrs. Mayfield is a sister of Mrs. Chalcraft and is well known here, having visited here on former occasions. All Mrs. Mayfield's friends were pleased to meet her again.

Mr. Hatt of Salem conducted our Sunday evening services. He had a phonograph with him which furnished some excellent music. The "Inflammatus" from the Stabat Mater; "Ave Maria," Gounod; "Onward Christian Soldiers," Sullivan; "Christ the Lord is risen today", Carey; and "The Lost Chord," Sullivan, were among the best selections.

We all enjoyed Monday evening in chapel. Mr. Chalcraft gave the pupils some good advice, and told them to be careful of their health, which is the most important thing of all. Then Mr. Campbell gave them an account of his trip in Southern Oregon and said that there was a great responsibility resting upon the pupils of all the schools. That it would depend upon them whether the Indian schools should be continued. Mr. Turney played two very good violin solos—one of them was an imitation of a bag-pipe and we would like to have heard more music. Then Mr. Mayfield, who is visiting Mr. Chalcraft, spoke to us about "the talents" and encouraged us in doing our very best. We like an evening like that very much.
