

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Mary Campbell is now working in the sewing room and likes it very much.

Maggie Curl is working in the dining hall and she does her work very well.

Laura Harnden is getting to be quite a cook in the Domestic Science room.

The carpenter boys are getting along nicely with their work in the new gym.

Eleanor Zimmerman works for Miss Troutman and likes her work very well.

Antoine Valley is working in the garden and he likes his work very well.

Plumbers are manufacturing pipes and making nipples to fit any kind of pipe.

George Foster is working on the garden detail and he says he likes his work very well.

Mr. Swartz said the farmers are now through with their hard work down at the lower farm.

Mr. Mann was surprised to find a wagon completed last Monday morning and ready to iron.

The blacksmiths have coal in the shop now so they do not have to work outside any more.

Louise Murray is beginning to make her summer clothes. Saturday she made herself a very pretty waist.

Thomas Spedis, who has been working in the blacksmith shop, is now working in the wagon shop and is doing well.

Harry Covington is now working in the carpenter shop, and he is doing very well. He is going to be a good carpenter.

Since the boys take care of the lawns they look nice and green and we hope that they will look nice all the time.

The sewing room girls worked very fast on the work dresses last week. They made 48 dresses and are trying hard to make 48 more this week.

James Minesinger is repairing the engine this week. We have to run the big engine during the day and night until the little engine is fixed.

Eugene Williams is painting the wood work in the kitchen and is doing fine work. Eugene is a good painter, able to earn a good living at his trade when he leaves Chemawa.

We have now a new wagon maker and the wagon shop is in good order. The blacksmith boys are to take two-weeks turn about working in the wagon and blacksmith shops, and by the way things appear at present it seems as if there will be many wagons turned out.
