

PUPILS' ITEMS

We are having a good time in Chemawa.

We are sorry that Millie Friedlander is sick in the hospital.

We are all glad to have Gabriel Peters back to school again.

We are all glad to see Hazel Butler back to school again.

Ellen Olney received a very pretty dress from her mother.

Edward Curl is a pretty good carpenter and likes the trade.

Robert Stensgar is one of Mr. Bowen's best workers in the afternoon.

Helen Dillstrom is making herself three pretty summer waists.

The girls who work in the hospital like the new hospital very well.

Patsie Barrett is working at the school building and he likes his work.

Alphonsus Guay is working in the garden and is doing pretty well.

Joe Whalawitsa is working in the wagon shop and he is doing very good work.

Joe Moss is now working on the garden detail and he says he likes his work.

Ida Johnson is learning how to play on a mandolin; we all wish her success.

Roy Frazier who was working at Mr. Campbell's office, says he liked to work there.

Lizzie Martin made a very nice sofa cushion for one of her friends some time ago.

Ellen Tohet is working in the dining room in the new hospital and Juli Hoyt is still working in the new hospital.

Francis Firlotte is now working in the dairy and he says he likes his work very well.

Alex Covington made himself a pair of overalls. Alex is learning fast; and takes much interest in his trade.

Wallace Wilson and Willie Luke are now working on the dairy detail, in the place of Fred Wright and Dean Walker.

This is St. Patrick's Day. He drove the snakes out of Ireland. Some are wearing green because it is his birthday. —March 17.

Friday afternoon Mr. Westley treated the sewing room girls with some of his dried prunes, which the girls enjoyed very much.

Now the days are long and the leaves begin to appear on the trees. The farmers are turning up the ground with their plows. We are all glad Spring is here again.

We all enjoyed the entertainment that was given by the "Che-in-tra Club," last Monday night. We hope to see another entertainment like the jolly "Che-in-tra Club" gave.

It seems that the Fifth Grade pupils are advancing in their studies, and they are doing fine, and hope that some of them will enter the sixth grade some time in the near future.

A very delicious snow pudding was made by the girls of the Senior Class in Domestic Science Tuesday morning. They gave Mrs. Theisz a sample of their cooking, which she enjoyed.

There are many talented debaters in the Nonpareil Society, but they are not yet well known; such as Albert Garry, who has been here three years and has recently joined and is scaling up in the literary work. He is now capable of competing with any of the older debaters.
