RELIANCE

The Reliance Literary Society met in room No 8. The house was called to order by Vice-President Abel Grant. Roll was called; old and new business transacted. On account of so much business we could not render any program.

An interesting speech was given by Simon Matthews, which the members enjoyed. The program for next meeting was read after which we adjourned.

Y. M. C. A.

The members of the Young Men's Christian Association met last Wednesday evening in their hall. The meeting was opened by songs, "Pull for the Shore," and "Holy, Holy, Holy," and followed by a prayer by Albert Garry. The transaction of business followed, the captains for the athletic branch of the association were elected. They are Eugene Williams and Thomas McCully. We adjourned and visited the sister society as we were directed.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. met in their usual place last Wednesday evening and were glad to welcome their new critic, Miss Royer, who has volunteered to take Mrs. McPherson's place. The meeting was opened by singing "What a Friend We have in Jesus," and followed with a prayer by Kate Brewer. Roll was then called and another song was sung. The minutes of the last meeting were read and another song was sung. The president called for business which was transacted. The topic for the evening was "The Value of a True Friend," of which Maud Lowry led. Different members spoke on the subject. They then had a season of prayer, and sang a closing song

"I've Found a Friend," repeated their watchword and adjourned.

NONPAREIL

The Nonpariel Literary Society met last Thursday evening, mainly for the purpose of transacting business. After business was arranged, a program committee was appointed, consisting of James Sloan, chairman; Webster Hudson and Eugene Williams assistants.

There being no program made for the meeting, the society voted upon one subject, "Resolved, That Indian Reservations should be abolished," and speakers selected. James Sloan and Eugene Williams were the disputants on the affirmative while Webster Hudson and Levi Sortor upheld the negative. While the judges were handing in their decisions we had instructive suggestions in reference to the affairs of the society by Messrs. Enright and Smith. The negative side won the debate.
