

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Carl Stone says he likes to work on the garden detail.—D. R.

Mattie Hayden is making Grace Beaver a very pretty dress.—M. P.

The gardeners were grafting the young peach trees last week.—F. M.

The tailor boys are making six dozen caps for the small boys.—A. C.

The plumbers were fixing the wires at the laundry Monday.—F. M.

The farmers are almost through plowing at the lower farm.—T. C.

The engineer boys are keeping the engine room in fine condition.—M. S.

Orin French and Thomas Williams are getting to be first-class wagonmakers.—E. M.

Mary LaRose is now working in the laundry and she likes her work very well.—M. P.

Minerva Meacum made some very nice coffee in the Domestic Science last Monday.—L. W.

Lela Wilson made some very nice bread in the Domestic Science last Monday.—M. M.

The sewing room girls are all very busy making kitchen aprons and spring dresses.—M. G.

Willie Friedlander is getting to be a good wagon-maker and he likes his trade very well.—H. B.

The sewing room girls have finished the hickory dresses and are starting on the gingham dresses.

Jesse Wilson is now one of the morning painters. He says he likes to work for Mr. Woodin.—H. O.

The carpenters who are repairing the old barn for a gymnasium are getting along finely.—J. S.

The wagonmakers will soon have another wagon ready for the blacksmiths to iron.—O. F.

Philip Moss is fireman on the afternoon shift this week and is doing fine, altho' he is just beginning.—T. A.

The blacksmith boys are busy welding tires for the new wagons which the wagonmakers are making.—D. G.

The carpenters got through putting the first floor in the boys' gymnasium last week and they are glad.—H. C.

Mary McCush made cookies last week for the first time and they were fine. She is getting to be a fine cook.—A. D.

George Horne, who has been working on the farm for about a month, has now gone back into the blacksmith shop.—T. C.

Miss Skipton got some of her girls back from the dining hall to help with the nightgowns to have them finished.—N. B.

Bessie Chiloquin and Louise Murray made some delicious biscuits in the domestic science Tuesday morning.—C. B.

The blacksmith boys take delight in working in the wagon shop. They will know everything about wagons when they finish their trade.—T. W.

---

Eighty heads of cabbage weighing 375 pounds were taken from the garden near the school house on Monday morning. These cabbages were planted in November and have made a wonderful growth considering the time of year. Some of the heads weigh 10 pounds. The pupils enjoy the cabbage for dinner on Tuesday. Radishes and lettuce are plentiful and there will soon be a good crop of onions.—Native American.