

LOCALS

Louise Murray made some very delicious rolls for Mrs. Cloutier last Tuesday.

Mrs. Bewley's sister came from Tacoma last week, to visit her parents in Salem.—M. M.

The Y. W. C. A. delegates left for Eugene Thursday to attend the State Convention there.

The girls of the junior class invited Mrs. Cloutier and her mother to supper Thursday evening of last week.

George Welfeldt, of Portland, was a visitor at the school on Sunday. His friends were glad to see him.—H. D.

Miss Steponeck is very proud of the laundry girls. They did up all the curtains for the large boys last week in fine shape.

THE AMERICAN has to thank Hon. Thos. K. Campbell of the Railroad Commission of Oregon for a copy of the First Annual Report of the Commission.

During Mr. Chalcraft's trip last week to bring a party of children to school, he met Robert Davis, class '07, in Seattle where he is working at his trade, painting and paper-hanging. While the painting season has not fully begun, Robert is doing constant work. At present he is finishing up a piece of construction work.

HONOR THE TEACHER

Mrs. S. C. Cloutier, who of recent years has been principal teacher in the Chemawa school, but who has been teaching here for 12 years, recently accepted a position in the Forestry

Service and took her departure Tuesday for Heppner, Oregon, where she will be located. She has been popular with both employes and students and in recognition of what she had done for them the senior class gave a reception in her honor Saturday evening. The reception was held in McBride Hall and a large number of the invited employes attended. A very pleasant evening was passed. There was a program of a literary and musical character after which tempting refreshments were served. The evening was memorable to all.

Monday evening at The Cottage, Supt. and Mrs. Chalcraft gave a reception to Mrs. Cloutier, to which all of the employes and many others were invited. A more really enjoyable evening is seldom passed. There was no restraint, everyone seeming at his or her ease. Delicious refreshments were served at a seasonable hour and all departed wishing Mrs. Cloutier good luck and happiness in her new field, and voting Supt. and Mrs. Chalcraft ideal as host and hostess.

I can honestly say that the two weeks in the hospital kitchen with Mrs. Teabo has helped me.—M. B.

Eleanor Zimmerman darns the small girls' stockings every week.—L. D.

Miss Royer took some girls out walking and she got some ferns to plant in her school room.—R. L.

Ben Bearchild is now working in the tailor shop.—M. C.

Christina Boswell is now making herself a pretty dress.—C. J.

We are all glad to see Dora Aubrey's sister in Chemawa.—J. H.

Pearl LaFlumbois is working in the dining hall.—A. W.
