

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Harvey St. John is now one of the sweepers.

Thos. Williams is busy fixing up one of the school hacks.

Galucia Nelson cultivated the nursery on Monday morning.

Thos. Williams was mixing concrete for Mr. Bowen part of this week.

David Bogard was harrowing the potato field last Monday.

John Mason made spring blocks for the carry-all this week.

Martin Sampson sharpened the feed cutter Tuesday morning.

A concrete floor is now being laid in the bathroom in the new "gym."

Harry Jones and Cyril Morrisette put a new sink in Mr. Moran's cottage.

The harness makers detail is small at present on account of outside work.

Robert Sampson, who came recently, is now apprenticed in the blacksmith shop.

Wm. Freelander and Elmer Ashue are fixing over a disc harrow for Mr. Westley.

Mr. Venter and Charlie Stensger fixed the cushions and top of the carriage this week.

Thomas Davis is one of the wood haulers this week in the engineering department.

Messrs. Henschel and Venter, assisted by Martin Sampson, repaired the bus this week.

A fence has been put around the new hospital, which adds to the neat appearance of our grounds.

Pascal George is now working in the school kitchen, after having worked on the painting detail.

The whitewashing in the new "gym" was finished by Mr. Woodin and some boys last Monday afternoon.

Alphonso Guay and James Finley were digging post holes last Monday morning back of the new hospital.

Louis Pellitier and William Kipling, both of whom are from Montana, are now apprenticed in the carpenter shop.

Last Saturday morning Mr. Westley took a company of small boys to weed the vegetable patch east of the academic building.

William Moose mowed the lawn in front of the wagon shop last Monday morning. He is one of the tailor apprentices.

Martin Cooper is greatly missed by his fellow workers in the harness shop and they all wish him a speedy recover from his idleness.

Mr. Bower was kept very busy last week, attending two things. Part of his work being at the head of the cement gang and the other on the lawn.

William Burke is in charge of the clothes press in Mitchell Hall, while Quartermaster Stanley Pedro is in the Hospital receiving treatment for his eyes.

Levi Sortor, Thos. Holden, Michel Wilson and Geo. Williams were out last Monday morning mowing grass around the fountain in front of the academic building.

Boys who are working in the kitchen are as follows: a. m. Paschal George, Elmer Jordan, Willie Pratt, Frank Sarrel, and Charlie Michel; p. m.: Wallace Burroughs, David Penny, Grover Olney and Henry Wilson.