LOCALS

We are all sorry to hear that Dr. Paxton is going to leave us soon.

Mrs. Brewer left for Tacoma Tuesday morning.

We are all glad that Mr. Bowen will be back next week so that our lawns and roses can get needed attention.

Christine Boswell writes to Miss Troutman that she and her sisters are having a delightful time at Mr. Coe's place where they are visiting.

Edward Sam, an ex-pupil of Chemawa, of North Yakima, Wash., was a visitor at the school last week. He left for his home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith returned from their vacation Saturday, bringing with them Hiram Keogan and William Johnson from Hadlock, Wash.

Lizzie Frazier writes that she had a very pleasant trip and sends best regards to all her Chemawa friends.

Addie Cameron has gone for her vacation and is missed by many of her girl friends.

Mr. Larsen left for Astoria Monday evening on his vacation, while Mr. Watkins departed for the same city Tuesday morning. They will attend the regatta.

Mrs. Sara C. Cloutier, formerly one of our employes, who resigned to enter the Forestry Service, we are glad to note has been reinstated at Fort Simcoe, Wash., as teacher.

Sunday evening a number of friends escorted Mr. and Mrs. Cox to the depot, where farewells were said. Mr. and Mrs. Cox left for their new field of work, Leupp, Arizona, and the best wishes of their many friends at Chemawa and the American go with them.

Miss Irene Campbell returned Wednesday from "The Breakers," where she had entered the invitation tennis tournament given under the auspices of the Multnomah Athletic and Irvington Tennis Club of Portland. While Miss Irene did not bring home any cups she reports having had a delightful two weeks on the beach.

The school was shocked this week to hear of the sudden death of Joseph Lane, who died of quinsy on the afternoon of the 19th, at his home at Siletz. "Joe," as he was familiarly called, was a member of this year's graduating class, well advanced in his trade of plumbing and engineering, and during his school days was always an exemplary pupil and good student. His parents and brothers have our sincere sympathy in their bereavement.
