

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Viola Brown is making herself a blue silk dress.

Work has commenced on the open-air Sanitorium.

Joe Dillstrom has taken charge of the prune picking force.

The farmers have started to bale hay down at the lower farm again.

The blacksmiths have just finished a new wheel barrow this week.

The sewing room girls will start making winter uniforms next Monday.

Matilda John and Rhody Silverthorn made some crabapple jelly the other day in the hospital kitchen.

John Brown, who has just returned to the school, is busy helping Mr. Gordon and Joe Purns repair Mrs. Brewer's house.

Anselius Talbot and Tom Davis are working on the fore shift at night and Tom Mullings and Albert Samuels on the after shift.

Eugene Anderson and Levi Sortor are working on day shift in the engine room, Anderson working in the morning and Levi in the afternoon.

Athletics

The football season is now on. With two pig skins being kicked to the sky and about 40 "huskies" chosing around the track, to say nothing of the smaller "elvens," Chemawa's 1908 season is surely on. At a meeting held Monday evening a captain, temporarily, was appointed and can be seen each evening with a squad of boys going through the various stunts that will finally land eleven of them on the First team.

LOCALS

Katie Brewer is attending the high school in Salem.

Mr. Moran left yesterday for Portland for a ten days vacation.

Mrs. Doherty made a flying trip to Salem Wednesday afternoon.

Wallace Farrow and John Brown returned to Chemawa Tuesday from Toppenish, Wash.

A number of new pupils arrived from Hadlock, Wash., Tuesday evening on the 6:30 train.

School will start Monday and all the pupils are looking forward to this year's schooling with pleasure.

Mrs. Chalcraft and daughter, Alice, arrived home Wednesday afternoon from a visit in Portland.

Eddie Lynch and Cyril Choquette arrived with Fred and Clarence Lewis and Thomas Case, returned pupils, Monday evening, from Wrangle, Alaska.

Miss Irene Campbell arrived home Wednesday evening from Spokane, Wash., where she had been to attend the wedding of her brother, Donald Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have taken up new quarters in Brewer Hall, formerly occupied by the Brewers, who have moved into the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Swain.

While on our way home from the coast the party of boys in charge of Mr. Larsen were photographed; a copy of the group was sent to Chemawa for exhibition in order that any boy or girl wishing to purchase one might do so by their order, accompanied with the price of same, which is 75cts., with Mr. Smith.
