

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

BY PUPILS

Eddie Lynch was fireman last week.

Thos. Case is quarter-master in Michell Hall.

Lyall Woodley is oiler in the Engine room.

Commissary supplies are coming in rapidly.

Two car loads of coal are at the depot ready for hauling.

The small boys' building is being repaired and painted.

Henry Wilson and Tom Powers are working in the kitchen.

Himan Hogan is repairer in the engineering department.

We have quite a number of new boys in the engineering department.

A new 100-horse power boiler has arrived for the engineering department.

Edward Ainsworth has returned from Albany where he was employed as steam fitter.

Elmer Ashue, Gilbert Conner, and Martin Cooper are painting the new wagon shed.

Dennis Haruden and Manuel Swanson washed one of the boilers and it is ready for use again.

Edward McClellan is painting a new wagon. His work is equal to that of a first-class painter.

John Taylor gave the engine room a general cleaning and has the dynamos, and engines shining.

We have good boys on the laundry detail. The detail changed this week. We hope the new girls will be as good as the old ones.

Thos. Flurry, Chas. Walton, Albert Samuels and Joe Purns are working for the contractor, who is remodeling the engineering department.

Mr. Woods is very busy drawing plans to remodel and renovate the small girls' home, and old hospital to be used as domestic science and sewing rooms.

Tommy Reed and Alex Arquette are working with Mr. Mudge in the wagon shop. They are doing repair work and take a great deal of interest in the work.

BLACKSMITH SHOP.

Milton George has finished a five-section screen for Mr. Fickle.

Louis Pellitier made a very neat deposit box for Mr. Smith's office.

Loriette Tillier and James Smith are busy finishing off the roofs of the small buildings at the Sanitarium.

Milton George and Louis Pellitier are now busy repairing the steps for the small houses at the Sanitarium.

Simon Matthews is at work in the blacksmith shop making double-trees and ironing off single-trees, repairing plows, etc.

Joaquin Meadows has the first forge in the blacksmith shop, which goes to show that he is a faithful worker and understands his work.

William Major has made a mud scrapper for the steps of Brewer Hall, so when you enter the building be sure to try your shoes on it and test the work.

The following boys are added to the list of the carpenter detail: Raymond Johnson, Roy Clawson, Frank Parotrovitch, including Alex Lee, who have all been very busy this week glazing the skylights for the Sanitarium.
