LIVE ITEMS

Monthly home letters have been written and mailed this week.

Abraham Bredell's friends were glad to see him when he arrived from Lapwai.

Mr. Chalcraft made a flying trip to Siletz to confer with Supt. Egbert of that place.

Word has been received that the department is contemplating the purchase of an additional piano for Chemawa.

Why was it that 28 boys of Brewer Hall had to be sent out from inspection on Sunday morning to polish their shoes?

Miss Lulu M. Evans resigned suddenly owing to poor health and her place is being temporarily filled by Miss Gertrude Brewer.

We hear that Mr. W. H. Bishop who has been clerk at Warm Springs agency for a number of years has been promoted to the Superintendency at Red Lake, Minnesota.

The school was recently visited by Professor S. F. Brum, formerly of Cornell and latterly of Stanford University. Prof. Brum was very enthusiastic and surprised at what he saw at Chemawa.

Quarterback Stine, of the Oregon eleven, had the misfortune to break his collar bone just before the close of the game. The injury was attended to by Dr. Lieurance, assisted by the nurse girls of Chemawa.

The Oregon football men who played our team last Saturday were a gentlemanly set of young men. They were good sports and took their defeat very gracefully although they had expected to win the game.

We have had many delightful days the past week. It is a pretty sight to look on the horizon and see Mount St. Helens, Mount Jefferson, Mount Adams and beautiful Mount Hood, looming up clear and bright in the distance.

We certainly had lots of music at the game last Saturday. In addition to the band two phonographs held forth; one on each of the bleachers. The Original record "Hold them! Hold them Chemawa! etc.," brought down the crowd.

Contractor Lovell's men are rapidly pushing the work on the engineering department to completion. The brick work is now completed excepting the stack which will loom up 80 feet in the air. These improvements will give Chemawa a first class, up-to-date department. This is one of the most valuable departments from an instructive point of view at the school.

Authority has been received for the purchase of additional band instruments; Three clarinets, two slide trombones, a melophone and a helicon. These instruments are to be triple-plated silver, satin finish, low pitched to correspond with the other band instruments. This will add very much to the instrumentation of the band, which under Mr. Larsen's management is rapidly improving.
