

PUPILS' ITEMS

We are all glad Thanksgiving Day is coming.—J. C.

Next week the seniors will start on cube root.—C. D.

We are glad to see Eugene Williams back to school again.—L. S.

We are all glad to have Eugene Williams enter the Senior Class.—L. B.

Mrs. Smith was selling pictures to the Seniors in their class room Tuesday morning.—C. L.

Sam J. Stickpoo and Charley Wilson arrived here last Saturday from Spalding, Idaho.—S. M.

The Senior Class is very proud of Levi Sortor. He surely did some fine talking last Monday night.—V. C.

The lecture of Mr. Moran of the engineering department was very interesting to all who attended Monday evening.—K. H.

Violet Berner received a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Washoe, who send their love to all their friends and say that Dr. Tucker spent Sunday with them.

Esther Napoleon has been playing the guitar in the Mandolin Club since the Club was first organized, but she is now going to take one of the first violins—M. L.

Since I entered Chemawa I have improved quite a bit in sewing. I have started on my second uniform and am getting along fine. I hope I will know more by the end of the school year.—C. G.

The boys were out in search of a boy Monday night who had gone out hunting Sunday morning and did not return home. He was found at a neighbor's place working. His folks were worried about him.—L. McD.

Sunday afternoon Miss Earlougher took a number of girls out for a pleasant walk. She took them down the railroad track and then down the road to Claxtar station on the carline and then back to the school.—S. B.

A letter was received from Lona John saying she arrived home safely and will be back soon with her little sister.—V. R.

The girls over at McBride Hall take great delight in listening to the Mandolin Club practice in the evenings.—N. S.

Left-Over Items

Elmer Jordan made his first dumplings last Tuesday.

The kitchen detail has finished putting up ninety six jars of fall butter pears.

Pedro Chevio made his first pudding Monday. It was a rice pudding and delicious.

Miss Brown took some girls out for a walk last Sunday. The girls report having had a good time.

We hope the marches at our weekly sociables will improve. We could have some fine drills in our big gymnasium.

Miss Frances Howard paid Miss Skipton a visit this week, and we all are very glad to see her back at Chemawa again.

The Sunday walks are very much enjoyed by the pupils. Different parties of girls chaperoned by teachers were out on Sunday afternoon gathering autumn leaves.

The girls are anxious to play basketball. They are practicing, but not as much as they would like to practice. We hope we can play the best teams during the winter.
