

LOCALS

Ruth Brewer is taking music lessons in Salem.

Mr. Stoudenmeyer was out from Salem, Tuesday.

Mr. Cooper made a flying trip to Eugene, Saturday.

Mr. Watkins has taken apartments in the "Swartz Mansion."

Mrs. and Miss Royer went to Salem Saturday on business.

Albert Garry returned to school Monday after a three month's vacation.

Mrs. Scott of Portland, daughter of Mr. Swartz, paid Chemawa a visit Saturday.

Philip Sorahan, Tracey Hatch and William Ingram were visitors from Salem Sunday.

Misses Nora and Rena Mann gave a birthday dinner Sunday and invited a number of their friends.

John Bullard, the son of Mrs. Bullard the nurse, left Sunday for Corvallis to resume his studies at O.A.C.

Mrs. Mann is kept very busy making pennants and arm bands to supply the demands of the many who order them.

Albert Garry's bass voice adds very much to the singing of the Senior class. He is one of the best singers Chemawa ever had.

Albert Garry returned from Mills, Washington bringing with him, Willie Flett, John Morrell, and Flex Isador, who were admitted.

Quite a number of Chemawa people attended the Mand Powell concert in Salem on Monday night. Miss Powell is one of the most famous violinists in the world.

PUPILS' ITEMS

I work in the harness shop and I like it very well. I like the school very well also.—F. B.

Alex Covington bought a piece of goods and got an order from the office to make himself a suit.—A. C.

The farmers are glad to have Henry Shaw working on the farm detail because he is a good football player.—G. J. W.

Three girls in the Senior and Junior classes take more interest in cleaning their finger nails than in their studies.—C. L.

We were all sorry to hear that Miss Skipton has blood poison in her hand, but are glad to learn that it is getting better.—S. B.

The seniors were very proud of Fred Lewis when he played football last Saturday. He surely did some fine playing. Stay with it Fred.—V. C.

Mr. Westley's lecture was very beneficial to all interested in fruit growing and many important things were learned from what he said.—J. D.

Dollie Case and Ella Brewer received a very pretty pennant each from members of the C. Y. M. C. boys from Portland and are proud of them.—V. B.

Joe Dillstrom is kept busy keeping the clock of the senior class on the right time. A new clock would make a fine Christmas present.—L. J. B.

Mr. and Mrs. Hirschman of Haines, Alaska, arrived here on Thanksgiving Day and spent the rest of the week visiting their children, William and Mary Campbell.—A. M.