

PUPILS' ITEMS

The new boiler in the power house will soon be in service, as it is nearly completed.—L. P.

The Daisy Club of McBride Hall was re-organized about two weeks ago and expects to give an entertainment soon.—M. L.

Miss Noble is now in charge of the Mess Club. She keeps things looking very nice. Everyone is very much pleased with her.

The officers of the McBride Hall girls had their first meeting last Saturday evening. Mrs. Theisz is president and Violet Berner is secretary.—K. H.

Arriving here at Chemawa a few days ago I got in the fifth grade and am working on the garden detail, and I also like the school very well.—F. I.

The Violin and Piano Recital given by Mr. Ruthyn Turney and Miss Gertrude Brewer on Monday evening was very enjoyable and we all hope to hear from them again.—M. A. E.

A letter received from Robert Brothers, an ex pupil of Chemawa from Riverside, Calif., states that he is coming back to Chemawa next spring. He likes old Chemawa best of all.—W. M.

We hope that the clubs and literary societies will follow the suggestion that was made by Mr. Campbell last Monday night. Which one is going to be first this year to give an entertainment?—V. C.

The engineers are now looking forward to the time, which is near by, when the work of extensive repairs and addition to the plant is completed, and we can organize as a class and society. Each member of the department donated 75c for the purpose of buying a number of books on Steam and Electric engineering. Mr. Moran is the business manager.—P. M.

Brevities

All the books for this year's supply have been received.

Supt. Chalcraft has lately been making new stereopticon slides.

Asst. Supt. Campbell made a flying trip to Eastern Oregon this week.

The small boy and the turkey are both counting the days until Christmas.

Several hundred pupils' monthly home letters were mailed last week.

Hiram Keogan is the smallest boy taking up engineering at Chemawa.

Miss Troutman was in Salem Monday and Mrs. Theisz went in on Tuesday. Say! Is it nearly Christmas?

When eggs are selling here at 40 and 45 cents a dozen the hen of today reminds us of the fabled goose that laid the golden egg.

The friends of Mrs. Moran were glad to see her at the lecture on Sunday evening, as she has not been well enough to be out for several weeks.

The Chemawa football squad were posing on Tuesday. As the first team lost only one game this season, they certainly have not been posing all the time.

Indian Office Circular No. 255 relative to order and system in arrangement of supplies in warehouse found our warehouse in strict accordance with the instructions.
