

Brevities

Albert Garry is the bugler at Brewer Hall.

Mrs. Fickle was on the indisposed list Sunday and Monday.

A number of boys have had a "college" cut in the barber line.

Mr. Smith and family were in Salem shopping Monday morning.

Dollie Case is now pianist for the chapel exercises and the marching.

The boys are now exceedingly careful about where they put their hats and caps.

The dressing room and piano closet have recently been installed in the new gym.

Dennis Harnden was in town Monday purchasing a wrestling mat for the new gym.

The contractors of the new power house have now come to the steam-fitting part of the work.

The Excelsiors have raised funds for their annual reception to be given in the near future.

The "Uncle Sams" are learning a new piece for their entertainment to be given Christmas week.

Mrs. Newcomb and Miss Troutman were marking the small boys' and small girls' hose this week.

Mrs. Jane Howard of South Bend, Wash., was a visitor at the school last Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Chalcraft was in town Monday admiring a large painted picture of Crater Lake. Xmas is near.

Mrs. Mann now has for sale Chemawa, O. A. C., U. of O., Stanford, and other school and college pennants.

Mrs. Brewer has already begun making fruit cake, apple jelly and mince meat for the Christmas dinner.

Miss Noble is now in charge of the employes' club and the members are all pleased with the new arrangement.

Miss Koester was in Salem on Saturday after Christmas cash for the depositors of the Chemawa National Bank.

Supt. Knott C. Egbert of Siletz, Ore., was a Chemawa visitor on Sunday, en route to Siletz from his annual leave spent in the East.

Two 10-pound sample boxes of choice dried Italian and Petite prunes were sent to the Honorable Commissioner of Indian Affairs this week.

"Uncle Sam's Mail Bag" is an interesting little paper read at the weekly meeting of the society, giving the amusing incidents of the week.

Mr. Loewenfeldt of Salem was out on Tuesday taking photographs of the entire 1908 football squad, first team, second team, and individual players.

Mr. Goudge of Willamette University gave a very interesting stereopticon illustrated lecture on the Mohammedan religion of Turkey in chapel, Sunday evening.

Miss Earlougher and Miss White took a 16-mile walk on Saturday afternoon bringing back a variety of ferns also a supply of garlic for the mess for Sunday dinner.

At a recent sociable Messrs. Teabo, Larsen, Pickering Chalcraft and Dr. Lieurance furnished such a volume of music that for a few minutes they were mistaken for the whole band and the pupils began a march. Possessing the talent that he does the doctor should join the band. Indications point to a successful drummer.