

LOCALS

Miss Steiger was a visitor at Chemawa last Friday.

Mrs. H. E. Mann made a flying trip to Portland, Saturday.

Mr. Gibeau from Montana is visiting his daughters at Chemawa.

Last week Grace Jones came from Grande Ronde to attend school.

David Graham is manager and captain for the engineers' football team.

Miss Irene Campbell entertained some Salem friends on New Year's Day.

Miss Brown went to Portland to attend to some business on Saturday.

Lots of blue birds here on Tuesday and they didn't seem to mind the snow at all.

The visitors' table in the dining hall was used a great deal during the holidays.

Ruth Liphart went to Portland, Saturday, to see her brother and his family and returned Monday.

Mrs. Underwood left for Underwood, Wash., Saturday. She spent the holidays here with Katie and Corbett.

Mrs. Cloutier remembered a number of her old friends at Chemawa on Christmas, and sent them pretty and appropriate gifts.

The fifth grade boys visited the printing office recently and some of them saw type lice. There are fifty-two boys in the grade.

The normal fifth grade gave the reporters more news than any grade. Do you call that a school spirit or just a timely streak?

Ruther Clements from Calif., and Willie and Avery Jones from Grande Ronde were admitted since the last issue of the "American".

Mrs. Brewer treated her kitchen force to taffy New Years morning, and Miss Skipton's dining hall girls in the afternoon. The boys and girls enjoyed the treat very much.

The reporters were lucky enough to come around for news in the kitchen while Mrs. Brewer and Miss Skipton were making their New Year's candy. Ask them how did they like the candy.

Mrs. Campbell received a very handsome piece of Filipino embroidery from Miss Hultman, a former teacher, who is affectionately remembered by all those who were here while she was one of our teachers.

Bessie Boles spent a couple of days at Chemawa last week visiting friends. She is now staying at Forest Grove, at which place she is studying piano. She returned there Sunday to resume her practice and study.
