

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

BY PUPILS

David Penny returned to the blacksmith shop.

Haines DeWitt is fixing door sills for the sanitarium.

The detail has been changed but will not go into effect until Monday the 1st.

The small sewing room girls are making new sheets for Brewer Hall.

The blacksmiths decorated the auditorium for their oyster supper Monday.

Fred Lewis and John Brown put a new flange in the steam lines to the boys' gymnasium.

Joaquin Meadows and David Penny are ironing off a light farm wagon to be used on our school farm.

The carpenters have just finished a number of posts for the lawn railing and they are on their way to the paint shop where Eugene Williams will put the finishing touches on them.

Metals get tired as well as human beings. Telegraph wires are better conductors on Monday than on Saturday, on account of their Sunday rest, and a rest of three weeks adds 10 per cent. to the conducting power of a wire.

A.-Y.-P. EXPOSITION NOTES.

The Alaska-Yukon Pacific exposition is called "The Fair That Will Be Ready."

The Washington state live game exhibit at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition will show all the wild game of the region.

The mining exhibit at the Alaska-

Yukon-Pacific exposition in 1909 will be the most complete mineral display ever shown at a world's fair.

The Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition has appropriated $100,000 for premiums in the live stock show to be held in connection with the 1909 exposition.

Grains, fruits and vegetables grown in Alaska will be a feature of the exhibit from the Northland at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition next summer.

Flowers never before grown in the United States will form a part of the decorative features at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle next summer.

Visitors to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition next summer will find ideal weather during the entire time of the fair. Seattle never suffers from extremes in heat or cold.

The perpetual snow fields of four mountain ranges and Mt. Rainier, one of the highest peaks in the United States, offer an unsurpassed view from the central court on the grounds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition.

The A. A. U. track meets this year will be held under the auspices of the Exposition and many attractive prizes will be offered to the contestants. The Exposition will be opened on June 1st and a schedule of meets will be arranged starting from that time. There will be a wide quarter mile track and grounds for baseball, tennis and all field events for track meets within the stadium and an active summer is expected by the University students.
