

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

BY PUPILS

Harvey Ashue and Felix Isador are new assistants in the kitchen.

A study table is being made in the wagon shop for the engineers' class room.

Ralph Allen and Thomas McCully, seniors, are working for the contractor at the power house.

The carpenters have been repairing the doors and windows at McBride Hall during the past week.

Mr. Mudge's wagon-makers have been taking the old casings and wood work out of the old hospital building, making it ready for remodeling.

Paul Queachpalma, Edward McClellan Wm. and Burke recently sorted the new bolts at the blacksmith shop and put each size in the boxes made for that purpose.

James Minesinger is one of the boys who is forging his way to the front in the blacksmith shop. He has only been in the shop a short time and is doing splendid work.

Lee Evans and Eugene Williams are the only painters at the shop now. They paint at the Sanitarium buildings when the weather permits and work in the shop during the showers.

The dressmaking department is very busy this week. The principal work is the drafting, cutting and sewing of the new white shirt waists for the uniforms, and fitting and making clothing for the new pupils who were admitted lately. The pupils who have just entered the department are doing excellent work.

PUPILS' ITEMS

Emma Havard is doing some beautiful bead work for her little cosy corner.—M. M.

Mattie Hayden is now a cook in the hospital and gets up some very nice meals.—H. F.

All were well pleased with the entertainment given by the school Monday evening.—M. S.

Millie Freidlander expects to see her grandmother soon on a visit from Nespelem, Wash.—M. A.

Sara, Lillian, and Mamie Garrin and Cecil Russel are new pupils that came last week.—S. M. B.

The basketball girls had their dinner at the "Mess" on Sunday. They enjoyed the dinner.—B. L. G.

Beatrice Guyette is expecting her brother Elmer from Umatilla over to visit her in a few days.—M. S.

Our teacher, Mrs. Campbell, is going to take the Seniors and Juniors to Salem to attend the Legislature in the near future.

The students of Chemawa are about to begin their drawing for the Seattle Fair. There are some good artists at Chemawa.—E. A.

We are all waiting for the Farmers and Engineers to play a game of football. The Engineers must be scared out.—F. S. [A Farmer must have written this.—Ed]

The work on the remodeling of the power house is now nearly finished. We engineers are proud and not ashamed to have visitors come into our shop. Everything is neat and clean.—J. J. T.