

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

The laundry detail changed last week. Hiram Keogan is head afternoon oiler at the power house this week.

The girls in sewing room No. 2 made some iron-holders for the laundry last week.

The farmers will be busy this week digging out the stumps on the Northwest part of the school farm.

John Hunter is fireman on the after shift at the power house. The after shift is from 12:30 to 7:00 P. M.

Lena Ashue and Julia Hoyt were the best workers on the forenoon laundry detail and Caroline Wright and Matilda Gibeau on the afternoon detail last week.

The blacksmiths are very busy this week. They are making tools for the A. U. E., ironing off new wagons, cutting bolts, and doing a great deal of repair work. The most complicated piece of work in the shop at present is two large traction engine wheels which new cogs are being put on.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held their meeting in the chapel Wednesday evening. The evening was devoted principally to business. The speakers were E. Williams, A. Garry and Joe Dillstrom. A program committee was appointed to arrange a program for the joint meeting with the Y. W. C. A. which will be held in the chapel next Sunday evening. The singing of "Blest be The Tie that Binds" and a prayer from Albert Garry brought the meeting to a close.

CUTTING TABLE CLIPPINGS.

The tailor shop wishes to congratulate Chemawa's school boys for their inter-school basketball tournament. And the tailor shop takes pleasure in announcing the personnel of the team that will represent the tailor shop in the struggle for the inter-school championship. It will be noted that this aggregation of "basket shooters" can shoot some, so it is only fair to advise our competitors to keep their eye on the basket when the tailors get in motion. So first come, first served.

Yours for Business,
BASKETBALL TEAM,

Tailor Shop.
