LOCALS

Miss Evelyn Woods is continuing her musical studies at the Sacred Heart Academy in Salem.

Word has been received here that Arthur Tyler, who left for his home at Ross Fork, Idaho, in the summer of 1906, died recently.

Dolly Case is improving wonderfully in her piano music. In fact, Dolly is an all-around musician. She will play the double bass quite as well as she does the piano in a short time. Dolly and Esther Napoleon are our two best musicians.

Superintendent Horace C. Johnson, of the Puyallup School, was a Chemawa visitor last Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Johnson has charge of the Indian Exhibit at the Alaska-Yukon Exposition, and came down to confer concerning the exhibit. We were very glad to have Mr. Johnson with us and hope that he may come again.

Dr. Hutchinson, of the Department of Agriculture, visited the school last Saturday, under the direction of his superior officer, concerning the inspection of the dairy herd of Chemawa. Our herd has been tested for tuberculosis twice in the past two years and has been found free from the disease. As we have purchased no stock from the outside since these two tests, we do not fear the result of the additional test which we hope will be made.
