

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Peter LaMoose and George Gorbett are on the gardeners detail.

The sewing room girls are now working on the small girls' uniforms.

The engineers are doing fine on the brick laying for the new boiler front.

The plumbers are hard at work overhauling all the pipe work in the old hospital.

Two new boiler fronts arrived here this week and foundations for them are being laid by the engineer boys.

Mr Enright and his tailors made the shades for the boys' gymnasium this week, consequently the "peek-ins" will be barred from the wrestling match tomorrow evening.

INTERESTING DEBATE.

The Nonpareil and Excelsior Literary Society orators occupied the platform in the chapel Monday evening in a debating contest before the public. The subject for discussion read; "Resolved, That Single tax on land value's is desirable."

The Nonpareils argued the affirmative and the Excelsiors the Negative. The arguments were well advanced on both sides and each speaker displayed considerable debating ability, which reflects much credit to the conduct and management of the societies. The Excelsior carried away the honors, both in composition and delivery. The speakers for the Nonpareil were Edward Ainsworth, principal; Eugene Williams, first colleague, and Matilda John, second colleague. Excelsiors, Henry Dillstrom, principal; his colleagues, Joseph and Helen Dillstrom; Chairman, Assist. Supt. Campbell; Judges, Supt. Chalcraft, Mr. E. A. Smith and Mr. Fickle. Time for delivering addresses, 15 minutes for principals and 10 minutes for colleagues.

SOCIETIES

Excelsiors

The Excelsior Literary Society convened in the usual place last Thursday evening. There was no regular program, which was due to the lack of time in the meeting previous; miscellaneous business was transacted. The new officers entered upon their duties in such a dignified and cheerful manner that we have placed all confidence in them and trust that during their reign the Excelsior Literary Society will be pushed "Onward and Upward."

Y. W. C. A.

The members of the Y. W. C. A. held their meeting last Wednesday evening. The meeting was opened by a song entitled "When the Mists Have Rolled Away." Roll was called and another song was sung. The topic for the evening was "Forgiveness," led by Helen Dillstrom. Miss Royer spoke a few encouraging words to the members. Another song was sung. Business was called for, there being none. The president called for reports from the different committees. We had a season of prayer, then sang our closing song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," repeated our watchword and adjourned.

The boys and girls' first basketball teams report having had a fine time at Newberg last Friday.—C.D.

The band members are looking forward to the Band's Anniversary Party which will take place some time next week.

Whenever the girls send their shoes over to the shoe shop to be fixed they are returned in fine condition and look as if they had just been bought.
