

THE BAND RECEPTION.

The band boys held their annual reception on the evening of St. Patrick's Day in the school gymnasium. The room was decorated with Chemawa colors and pennants of different colleges. The gallery was draped with red and white. Over one basketball goal was a helmet of the band on which was painted an Indian head with head dress and words "Chemawa Band." The other goal was filled with oranges.

When the guests arrived every band boy was in his place ready to give a concert. Many of the pieces rendered were Irish melodies. Lee Evans sang the well-known Irish song, "Harrigan".

Everyone was then invited to join in a grand march to the music of the Excelsior Band. Mr. Campbell and Miss Irene Campbell were the leaders who made it very interesting as they went through the different exercises.

The gymnasium makes an ideal room for marching and for the playing of games. In honor of the day, "My Father and Mother were Irish" was played. They had a number of pigs in the parlor. "Bingo" and "Three Deep" were especially enjoyed. With one consent Dr. Lieurance was the best player.

Refreshments were served around a festive board. Two kinds of sandwiches, nuts, ice-cream, mixed cakes and cocon were served.

Mr. Smith acted as toastmaster, and many responded. Robert Cameron told about "Our Band"; Mr. Teabo, "The Band Anniversary"; Dr. Lieurance, "Music and Medicine"; Mr. Larsen, "The Opening of Our Bandstand"; Miss White, "Musical Employees"; Haynes DeWitt, "Music in Alaska"; Mr. Campbell gave the bandmaster his annual roast, after which all said "Goodnight."
