

LOCALS

Ernest Brewer went to Portland, Saturday.

The band gave a concert Sunday evening in the bandstand.

Ernest Brewer made a flying trip to Salem, Monday afternoon.

The office orderlies are required to be in full uniform while on duty.

The companies of the battalion are improving wonderfully since the new rules went into effect a few weeks ago.

Mrs. H. E. Mann, who has been in poor health for some time, went to Portland, Monday, where she will remain a few weeks for treatment.

Miss Gertrude Brewer has received several bouquets of chrysanthemums and roses from her friends since her illness. We all hope to see her well soon.

Mr. Watkins made a trip north last Saturday on office business. Mr. Larsen filled the night watchman's position while Mr. Watkins was absent.

Mrs. Williams of Hadlock, Wash., was a visitor for a few days. She returned Monday, taking her son, Chester, who was in poor health, along with her.

Boys, when you purchase your doughnuts, don't scatter the paper bags about the grounds. If you do, leave a doughnut in them to pay the yard boy for his work.

The plaster has all been removed from the old hospital and new lathes put on where they were needed. The old floor has been taken up and work is well under way, and when the building is finished the domestic science and dressmaking departments will have a place equal, if not better, than any in the Indian service.

A dispatch from Riverside, Cal. states that Superintendent Harwood Hall, who has been at the head of Sherman Institute since its founding, has resigned to accept the position of Inspector of Indian schools throughout the United States. He will be succeeded by Frank M. Connor, chief clerk in the office of the commissioner of Indian affairs, who will assume his duties March 12.—The Weekly Review.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Cyril Morrisette is working at the hospital, now.

Paul Queachpalma is working on the industrial detail this week.

Mary Loftus and Hazel Picard are excellent workers in the laundry.

The blacksmiths get plenty of practice on tool sharpening and repairing farming implements. This kind of work is always coming into the shop.

William Burke, Albert Garry, James Olney, Moses James, Elmer Ashue, Edward McClellan and Lee Evans are on the afternoon detail at the blacksmith shop.

When we send a towel to the laundry it generally is washed and ironed and returned to us with such expedition that it reaches home before the boy who took it to the laundry returns. It is still hot from the iron when we get it.
