

PUPILS' ITEMS

Philip Purns is now bugler in Brewer Hall.—F. M.

Joe McCorkle says he is going to run in the five-mile race.

Everybody is glad that the coming Sunday is Easter.—H. B.

Gussie Cameron is making some very fine bead work for herself.

The sewing-room girls have almost finished the uniform dresses.

The band practiced in the Gymnasium last Monday evening.—G. W. P.

We are all glad to see Miss Skipton well and able to be back in the dining hall.—M. L.

Mary Loftus received 22 pair of seal-skin moccasins from her home last week.—M. D.

We fourth grade pupils all take much interest in our studies, especially in our arithmetic.

Some time last week Martha LeClaire finished a tailored serge suit for the Seattle-Yukon Exposition.

Virginia Garry and Lena Ashue are kept very busy doing some fancy work for the Seattle Fair exhibit.—A. W.

From the way the first team of baseball players is showing up, it look as if Chemawa will have a strong team.—A. S.

The boys all seem to take interest in the relay race this year, twenty or thirty boys can be seen running every night.—F. S.

Esther Brown from Siletz brought with her her two brothers and several other pupils. They have come here to attend school.

We had a general clean-up in the engine room yesterday afternoon, which helps a lot in the appearance of the power house.

We are all hoping for the first baseball game to be played in the near future, in which we hope the Chemawa boys will not fail.—L. R.

Mrs. Donald Campbell visited our class room one day last week. We all appreciated her visit because she appears to be such a pleasant lady.

Mary Costa made a very pretty Indian basket, which she presented to Mattie Zimmerman, who was surprised and pleased to receive the gift.

The piano in McBride Hall, which was in the guest room, is now moved to the reading room, which makes it more convenient for the Orchestra to practice.—M. L.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

BY PUPILS

Leon Reinkin is foreman of the woodshed force.

The woodshed has been remodeled and painted.

The carpenters are siding up the coal house with dressed lumber.

The painters did a neat job of painting on the window and door casings at the power house.

The school details have changed. The details change every two months. Those who went to school in the morning heretofore, now attend in the afternoon and work in the shops in the morning, which gives each detail a turn at the morning and afternoon work and school hours.
