Who will win tomorrow's baseball game?

Who the girls are that chew gum in chapel?

Who made the training table and who did not?

That Thomas Case is the noisiest boy in Mitchell Hall?

That John Taylor is tired of his big BbB helicon already?

That you are not safe around the engineer department?

Who never fails to get a "stand-in" in the dining room?

Which company has the cleanest sports of the school?

Which girls dropped out of the Nonpareil-Excelsior debate?

How far Henry Darnell got in a five-mile try-out? (250 yards)

Which Company keeps the best step in marching to the dining room?

That Mr. Enright has quit journalism and has taken up merchant tailoring?

Which boys walked in on the evening of the first try-out for the training table?

That Dollie Case and Violet Berner are planning to invite their brothers to an Easter dinner?

That the "Arkansaw Traveler" and "Red Wing" were married and are now living in Jim Minesinger's violin?

That the boys who are training for the fifty-mile relay race eat more pie and doughnuts than the boys who are not?

Brevities

Recess is greatly enjoyed by the pupils this fine warm weather.

The band has made some improvement in both music and marching to the dining hall.

Jasper Grant is the smallest and youngest boy to make the training table in the five-mile try-out.

Tommy Case seems to enjoy helping Francis Kalama and David Graham haul wood to the power house.

Joe Charles has joined the wrestling club and if anyone wants to see what he has learned just ask him to "bridge" for you.

Four more new instruments were ordered for the band—two cornets, a baritone and a snare drum—which means more music.

Alden Clark and Frank Souvigner surprised their friends by being two of the first ten to come in from the tryout on Tuesday afternoon.

Dennis Harnden is now attending school all day. He goes in the seventh grade in the morning and in the eighth grade in the afternoon.

WANTED—Three good bright boys, who intend to stay here for two years at least, to learn to play B-flat clarinets.—MUSIC MAN, Chemawa Band.
