

LOCALS

Mr. Woods is moving from the south cottage to the west cottage, formerly occupied by Mr. Moran.

Some of the Amateurs are out daily practicing baseball. It is their determination to beat the Big Zs as no basketball game was played between these two clubs.

In hauling meat from the depot to the kitchen Fortunato Jayme lost one of his wool knitted gloves which he seems to be greatly in need of this nice spring weather.

John Ostregan is here from McMinnville visiting Theodore Schelikoff. He says he is going to quit his work at McMinnville and come here to school in a short time.

Mrs. J. H. Lewis was here from Glendale, Ore., to visit Miss Skipton. Mrs. Lewis was here several years ago and was surprised at the wonderful improvements of the school.

These fine afternoons Leon Reinkin can be seen pushing at the back end of the wood cart which shows that he enjoys hauling wood as well as telling the small boys where to haul it.

The fruit trees are now in full bloom and the prospects are good for an excellent crop this year; the trees are out a little late on account of the cold weather and there will be no frost to kill them.

The plaster which was taken from the old hospital building and small girls' home was placed on the walk from the dining room to the power house, and in the low places back of Brewer Hall.

Boys, if any of you have made up your mind to play clarinet come around and ask for one and begin your lessons at once. It may mean something to you. Notice some of our other beginners how they are working up.

AN EASTER DINNER.

Sunday afternoon Misses Helen and Belle Dillstrom, Miss Dollie Case and Miss Voilet Berner invited their brothers and a few lady friends to an Easter dinner, which they had prepared in the Domestic Science department.

The dining hall was beautifully and artistically decorated with evergreens and wild flowers. At 2 o'clock the guests were seated around the table, which was laden with beautiful glass dishes filled with Easter eggs and oranges and tall vases of flowers and a delicious spread.

After a benediction by Mr. Cooper all partook of the delicious repast which was elaborately prepared for the occasion by the young ladies. The menu consisted of oyster soup, waferette, pickles, green onions, roast pork, apple sauce, mashed potatoes, potato salad, mayonaisse, deviled eggs, raspberries, strawberries, rhubarb, raisin pie, rhubarb pie, ice cream, assorted cakes, Easter eggs, oranges, coffee and cocoa.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, Miss Ella Brewer, Thomas and Oscar Case, Miss Pearl Picard, Miss Mary Loftus, Miss May Evans, Joseph, Henry, Elmer and Belvia Dillstrom and Edward Berner. After the meal had brought glad tidings of great joy a shower of congratulations and Easter greetings from the departing guests fell upon the young ladies for the extra efforts they had put forth which made the afternoon one of pleasure and enjoyment.
