

to call on the ground.—James Whitehead.

My father has 22 wild fowls and my father keeps them by the river and my father has 24 tame fowls and some times he keeps them in the sheed and some times the fowls say quack all of the fowls like to swim in the river and they like to crall around on the land all of the cats can mew and purr some times the cats purr in the morning some boys kill fowls and some boys dont kill fowl and some boys steel fowls and some boys dont steel fowls all of the dogs like to bark and all of the dogs can bark some boys and girls say please all of the fowls like to dive in the river all of the horses like to eat wheat and some of the horses are tame and some horses are wild.—Buster Towner.

You can not catch a wild duck as easy you can catch a taim duck the duck can swims in the water the duck can fly far. the chickens can leigh egg the girl and boy like chicken egg. some duck are taim some duck are wild all the duck can swims. all the duck can fly. the duck eat worms.

Ducks are wild duck can swim with there web feet they like to swim Ducks like to eat worms this is the way they talk quck quck cats can purr and catch cats A horse can neighing when they see a nother horse comming to the barn horses can run fast and they can kickhard.—Marvin Williams.

Brevities

Leon Reinken was out from Salem, Thursday.

Leo Tonasket is the latest addition to the industrial detail.

The gardeners were cultivating the young strawberries on Thursday.

Grover Olney is off from duty on the garden this week on account of having a sore hand.

The industrial boys mowed the lawn to the north of Brewer Hall on Thursday afternoon.

Milton George was repairing the balustrades around the Brewer Hall on Thursday afternoon.

The carpenters were putting screens on the windows at the Small Girls' Home this week.

Andy Walker put new window glass in the broken windows at the Small Girls' Home on Thursday afternoon.

The engineers laid water pipe for the purpose of getting water to water the lawn in the front of their shop this week.

Miss Belle Savery, of Florence, Oregon, a cousin of Mr. Mann, is here visiting him and the school for a couple of weeks.

A letter from ex-Superintendent Potter says that he has been at the N. E. A. convention which was held at Denver. He sends his regards to all old friends and pupils.

In the final examination of the seventh grade Henry Olson made the highest average, 97 7-9. This means a loss of but twenty points on the entire examination on nine subjects.

The farmers now work all day on account of there being so much work to be done in the hay fields, and for their all-day's work they have tables for themselves in the dining room and receive extras.

Vernie Cliffe accompanied the Girls' Mandolin Club to Woodburn and appeared as vocalist in the concert given by the Club in that city on Monday evening. She appeared in Indian costume and sang well, responding to encores in both of her numbers.