

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

BY PUPILS

Mr. Swartz's force is still busy hauling hay.

The nurse girls are busy arranging the hospital for commencement days.

The blacksmith boys, under the superintendency of Mr. Mann, have finished oiling floors of the small girls' home.

Nine rolls of leather have been transported to the harness shop from the commissary. That means more harness.

The dining room force under the direction of Miss Skipton was decorating the dining room Tuesday for commencement.

The wagon makers have just completed a combination hay-rack and carry-all and are now ready to begin on two more.

Five hospital tables have just been turned out from the cabinet department. They are made to stand on a single iron leg and can be adjusted to revolve.

A company of boys from Mrs. Newcomb's building, under the direction of Mr. Fickle, thoroughly cleaned the east end of the dairy and the lawn north of the dining hall on Tuesday.

Eugene Williams and William Burke repainted the circles and borders for basketball in the new gymnasium. Judging from the result of their work, we are proud to say that they are able to compete with the average painter.

Geo. Doherty, who has been an apprentice in the cabinet department for a few weeks, made a paper rack of five shelves for himself. The work shows a wonderful improvement in this trade considering the short time that he has been in there.

LOCALS

William Morgan is now in charge of the bear pit.

Fortunato Jayme is now clerking in Mr. Henderson's store.

Supt. Chalcraft and family took their meals at the club last week.

Elmer Henry and Howell Breeden went to Salem on Wednesday.

The seniors had a fine party at Mrs. Campbell's house Wednesday evening.

Mr. Burdette was mowing the lawn with a mowing machine on Wednesday.

We are all glad to know that Andrew Bittles is getting along so nicely in the hospital.

The painters gave the interior of the jail its second coat of white paint on Wednesday.

The choir practiced in chapel last Wednesday in the afternoon instead of the evening.

Mr. Fred B. Smith with a force of boys cleaned the sides and front of the superintendent's office this week.

A reorganization of the hose cart companies was made on Wednesday. The first company was organized from Mitchell Hall and the second from Brewer Hall.

In a letter received from North Yakima it is noted that Douglas Holt of the class '07 is doing a very large merchant tailoring business, employing seven people, among them three coat makers, two trouser makers and one bushelman, and a cutter, and as someone expresses it, is doing more business than all of the merchant tailors of the Capitol City combined.
