

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

BY PUPILS

Moses Alvarado is now working on the kitchen detail.

James Brown is now working on Mrs. Doherty's detail.

The painters repainted the front of the office on Tuesday afternoon.

Fifteen thousand pounds of freight were hauled from cars on the switch this week.

William Burke was kalsomining the stairway to the printing office on Monday.

The plumbers were busy Monday afternoon installing a new tea urn in the kitchen.

The farmers expect to finish hauling hay this week so they can begin baling next week.

Eugene Williams re-marked the lines for basketball limits in the Gym. on Tuesday afternoon.

The dairymen are a busy lot this week. They receive and store away the hay as fast as the farmers haul it.

Edward Berner was painting the telephone posts out in front of the superintendent's office on Monday.

Cyril Morrisette cut the grass and put the lawn at the Sanitarium in condition for commencement on Tuesday.

Mr. Fickle with a force of small boys was busy Monday afternoon cleaning up around the Small Girls' Home.

Mr. Swaboda and his boys were mowing the lawn and trimming the rose bushes around his shop on Monday.

Mr. Smith with a force of boys cut the tall grass around the south side and front of Brewer Hall, cut the grass that was beginning to grow over the sidewalk going from Brewer Hall to Mitchell Hall, loosened the earth around the trees on the play ground and lawn in front of Brewer Hall, and washed the sides of the north porch of Mitchell Hall this week.

LOCALS

The local price for raspberries is $1.00 a crate and loganberries is $.75 a crate.

A number of girls went to Salem, Monday afternoon, chaperoned by Miss Royer.

Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Teabo were selling ice cream in the band stand on Monday for the Hayessville church.

The seniors were called to the tailor shop on Monday to try on their graduation suits.

A number of boys were working for Mr. King in his hopyard during the first part of the week.

The pupils and employes are all busy this week preparing for commencement which will be on hand all next week.

Miss Emily Nerod of Salem is here now in the capacity of assistant clerk, vice Miss Koester who resigned recently.

During the past week or two the clerks have been very busy getting off their quarterly reports so it has not been safe to talk items, commencement, potatoes or berries with them.

The band concert on Tuesday afternoon was very much enjoyed. Mr. Larsen's beautified tones on the cornet denote a thorough musician. The selection in which the band sang so spiritedly was particularly pleasing. We surely have reason to be proud of the Chemawa band and our band leader, Mr. Charles Larsen, who learned his music at this school.
