

business after the boys receive their money for picking berries.

Oscar Brown's little brother came to Chemawa for a visit and says he would like to remain here all the time.

Mrs. J. H. Cradlebaugh, of Salem, was among the visitors at the school on the day for industrial demonstrations.

There was quite a number of visitors on the grounds Tuesday afternoon during the industrial inspection hour.

Frank Pratrovitch and Rodrick Murchenson oiled their floor and from now on intend to have the best floor in Mitchell Hall.

Miss Francis Newcomb was invited to spend the day at Brooks with Father Datin and his niece, and reports having had a very enjoyable visit last Monday.

Colonel Pringle gave a most appropriate talk to the graduates, and in fact, all assembled in the gymnasium on Thursday evening. He paid a high compliment to work being carried on in this service.

The members of Company B were all sorry to hear that their captain, Joe Wiggins, was seriously hurt in a wrestling match. He was able to lead his company in the competitive drill.

William Bresette, an ex-student of Chemawa and who is now enlisted at the Vancouver Barracks, was here to witness the Commencement exercises and took Allen McGibbons to Salem with him, Wednesday.

The Amateurs and the Big Zs crossed bats last Tuesday and the Big Zs were defeated by a score of 7 to 3. Graham pitched for the Amateurs and three hits were made off him. Darnell pitched for the Big Zs and seven hits were made off him, five being in one inning. Eugene Williams was the chief roofer for the Big Zs and Joe Dillstrom for the Amateurs.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

BY PUPILS

David Graham and Amos Smoker did great work keeping out of work last Tues.

Tom Case with a force of small boys did a great job cleaning up the yard last Tuesday.

Mr. Burdette and his force of boys are trimming the trees around the grounds this week.

George Horn, who has been a faithful worker on the dairy detail, is now working in the engineering department.

There is more work in the laundry this week than usual on account of the old blankets from the small girls' home.

Elmer Sorahan varnished the banisters on the stairway leading up to the printing office on Monday afternoon.

During industrial demonstration day, Tuesday, the four senior boys of the engineering department had charge of the shop.

Mr. Burdette and his industrial class trimmed the walnut and maple trees around Brewer and Mitchell Halls this week.

The garden crops are doing fine this season. The little rain showers that happen quite often in this country are doing a great deal of good.

Pedro Chevio went to Lincoln to fish last Saturday and caught one fish. He really did not catch this fish, for he went to sleep and the fish caught its self.