

PUPILS' ITEMS

I had a very good trip to Seattle from Ketchikan and when I got in Seattle I saw the Fair and it was very beautiful but now I am feeling so home sick I think I will like to stay here after a while when I get acquainted with all the girls.

We, the members of the Nonpartiel Literary Society will certainly realize what the absence of Levi Sortor means to us: We regret his departure very much, but wish him a great success and hope he will visit us here again in the near future.

We are very glad to see Katie and Corbett Underwood back to Chemawa after spending their vacation at their home. They were accompanied by their sister Mrs. Stewart.

School has started and all of the pupils having made good resolutions for the year. The Seniors have a very small class. There are eight members of the class.

Dorothy Talbot has been working for Mrs. Campbell ever since commencement. But now she is working in the sewing room, and she is orderly for the sewing room.

Mr. and Mrs. Rainville were here on a visit to their children, Mabel, Alvina and Willie Rainville during the last week.

We were all glad to have the privilege of seeing President Taft and of the fine little speech he gave us—L. P.

Some of the graduates made visits to the school rooms before they went to their homes in various states.

Martha Le Clair, who has been working in the sewing room is now working at the Teachers' Club.

Mr Cooper was very glad to see W. E. Haight get back on the dairy detail again Monday morning.

Last week the Rainville girls' father and mother came to visit them, and they were very glad to see them.

Ellen Ferris writes that she is having a good time at her home and will soon return to Chemawa.

There are only eighteen pupils in the junior class, but we hope to have more before long.

We are glad to have Miss Faris for our teacher. There are five new boys in our grade.

The detail changed on Monday and the girls are pleased with their places of work.

We were honored Sunday evening by having President Taft stop and talk to us.—L. P.

We were all glad to see Mary and Rose and Bart Voutrin back to school again.

Dollie Case presides at the new grand piano in the chapel very acceptably.

Caroline Wright is now working in the hospital and she likes it very well.

Frank Sorrel is now working in the blacksmith shop.

Neta Jones is working for Mrs. Campbell. She is pleased with her work.

Miss White took some of the girls out walking last Sundy.

Jasper Grant is a late addition to the printing office.

A letter was received from Maud Lawry which states that she is in the best of health, and wishes to be remembered to her friends at school.
