

LOCALS

Martin Colby is Mrs Campbell's orderly again this year. He is a very faithful one.

Pickering Chalcraft and George Doherty can be seen nearly every evening winding their way to the old gym with a basket ball under their arm.

Mr. Campbell is having the living rooms of his house kalsomined and while the work is going on the Campbell's have taken refuge at the Teacher's Club.

Superintendent Chalcraft returned Tuesday morning from an extended trip to the sound country and Yakima agency where he has been transacting school business.

Many of the Chemawa boys were in Salem on Saturday. Salem is improving all the time. The stores were all doing a brisk business and the streets crowded with people.

A practice game was played last Saturday afternoon between the first and second teams. It was a lively game from start to finish, and both teams exhibited some clever plays. All who attended were pleased to see the result of a week's practice.

The small fruits have been transferred to the ground to the east of the school house. Here next year will be luscious strawberries, succulent Loganberries and blackberries. The grapes will also be added to the east side before another year.

We have four bright "devils" here in the printing office. They are Reggie Downie, Jasper Grant, Henry Evans, and Oscar Case. Oscar Case and Jasper Grant, will make excellent pressmen, Henry Evans best composer and Reggie Downie an all around printer, that is if they have the determination to stay with it.

Mr. William Egan, one of Marion county's progressive farmers, surprised the relay team last Saturday with a handsome box of late Crawford peaches. Last May on the morning the Salem-Portland race was run Mr. Egan met Smoker going to his post and he said "you boys win the race and I'll give you a box of peaches from my orchard when they are ripe." Saturday Mr. Egan more than made good. The team says, "Thank you Mr. Egan."

Joseph Dillstrom, a member of this year's class, is now devoting his time in farming. He has leased from Mr. T. B. Jones 60 acres of farming land, 19 acres of loganberries and 10 acres of peach orchard. This lease includes a house, a barn and other farming implements. Joseph made an excellent record during his attendance here in Chemawa that we can see nothing but success in whatever he may undertake.

Mr. P. Kalama, of Roy, Washington, visited the school on Monday. Mr. Kalama is a full blooded Indian of the Puyallup tribe and speaks English fluently. He was one of the first pupils of Chemawa when it was located at Forest Grove, twenty-nine years ago, and also attended a few years here in Chemawa. He was the one who printed the first school paper, "The Indian Citizen," which is now, "The Chemawa American." In the evening he spoke to the student body and all enjoyed his talk very much. He spoke of the advantages that our boys and girls have now in getting a good education comparing to that when he first went to school.
