

PUPILS' ITEMS

We are having a good time this winter.

Sam Wewa is working in the harness-shop.

Alex Pablo is working in the blacksmith shop.

The carpenters are busy this week repairing different buildings.

Jennie Luke is expecting her father here for a visit in a few days.

The sewing room girls have finished with the seer-sucker dresses.

Elmer Sorahan and Milton George are making screens for the Bakery.

Mary Loftus is going to be the pianist for the Mandolin Club this year.

Caroline Joseph does her work very nicely in Mrs. Fickle's sewing room.

Grace Benjamin is still working in the hospital. She is taking nurse training.

The sewing room girls are very busy making mackintosh capes for the small girls.

Emma Shepard is now working in the Domestic Science, and say's she likes the work very much.

Miss Dohse took a number of girls out coasting Sunday afternoon. We all had a very good time.

Viola Ferris is expecting her grandma here for Xmas, and we hope she will bring Ellen back with her.

Everybody seems to be very happy nowadays because Santa Claus is coming on his way to Chemawa.

The Harnessmakers were glad to see Sam Wewa start at the harnessmaking trade. We wish him success.

Maggie Jerry, Mary Costa and Laura Wilson are making themselves new dresses to wear on Christmas Eve.

We are very glad to get the six lap boards which were made by Thomas Reed; we thank him and Mr. Fry.

Nellie Spencer did some very nice work on a sofa pillow which she gave to Kate Underwood as a birthday present.

Allah Madison received a very pretty gold nugget pin from her father who is in Alaska, and she is very proud of it.

The girls' detail changed the sixth of this month. Most of the girls were pleased with the place they were detailed.

The tailors have all put in for a basketball and got it from Salem and are going to play against other industrial departments.

We are all very glad to think of Christmas drawing near. We hope we will have a good time during the Christmas holidays.

Dollie Case expects her Grandmother in the near future. She thinks that she may be here in time to spend Christmas with her.

Tonie Harry arrived last week from Klamath, Humboldt Co., California, before the snow came. He is taking up the engineering trade, which he is anxious to learn.

The boys were all glad to have the snow visit us so soon this year. We hope that it will continue until Christmas, so that our old friend, Santa Claus, will not get stuck so easily on his way here this year.
