At noon came the dinner. Was it a good one? Ask any one of the between five and six hundred who participated and they will tell you that it was the best that was ever had at Chemawa. Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Liphart especially deserve great credit for the succulent dishes prepared, Mrs. Cooper and Mr. Teabo for the turkeys which were done to a turn, and Miss Skipton for the splendid arrangement of the dining-room, tasty appearance of the tables and general good management of the dinner. All employees were present and assisted in carving and serving the turkeys. This is a Chemawa custom and everybody appeared bringing their carving knives and forks with him. Large white aprons were presented to both men and women employees while serving the children. After grace by Mr. Campbell a telegram was read from Mr. Chalcraft which was as follows: "Convey to employees and student body my best wishes for a Merry Christmas." Then the dinner was "tackled" with a hearty good will.

After the pupils' dinner at 1:30 p. m., the employees had a course dinner at the Teachers' Club. The room was tastily decorated. The tables were arranged in a Y shape and Miss Noble served an excellent dinner. She and her waitresses deserve great credit for the manner in which the dinner was prepared and served.

In passing we would remark that the menu cards of the Teachers' Club and of the pupils' dinner were very neat and a credit to Mr. Turney, the head of our printing department.

At 3:00 o'clock all assembled in the gymnasium where Mr. Enright, as generalissimo, had arranged two basketball games. The first game between Dairyboys and Gardeners was won by the Dairyboys, the score being 12 to 14. The second game was played between Harnessmakers and Engineers, which was won by the Harnessmakers, the score being 13 to 14.

On Sunday morning, the Christmas hymns were repeated at the morning service and in the evening the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. gave a program, an account of which appears in another column.

All of this week the school rooms were closed. In the morning the chores were attended to and every afternoon at 2:00 o'clock the student body assembled in the gymnasium and a double header basketball game was played between two of the industrial league teams, an account of which appears in another column.

We must not forget the Santa Claus Social on Monday evening of this week. At that time all assembled at the gymnasium and after a good long march and excellent program by the band under Mr. Larson's leadership, Mr. Enright and Mr. Fickle served the delicious ice-cream made by Mr. Cooper and the cake by Mr. Teabo. There was more than enough to go around and it was with some effort that all of it was taken care of.

Chemawa's pupils certainly will remember the Christmas festivities of 1909 and will look forward for the return of Old Santa in 1910 with pleasant recollections.
